IN POLICE COURT

Cases of Drunkenness Were Numerous Today

In police court, this forenoon, the drunks who lined up before Judge Hadley were mostly simple cases. Six were released and two were fined $2 each. Michael O'Brien, who had been drinking very heavily of late and who pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness was given a sentence of ten days in jail to sober up.

Edward I. Morse was adjudged guilty of drunkenness and was sentenced to three months in jail. For disturbing the peace Morse was fined $10.

Nelson Gentilly, for second offence of drunkenness was fined $5 and for disturbing the peace received an additional fine of $10.

Manuel Campos and Rose Silva were found guilty of fornication. The woman was committed to the Massachusetts reformatory at Sherborn. Campos was fined $25.

Robert Farley, a continued case of drunkenness was given a three months sentence in jail which was suspended for one year, he being placed in charge of the probation officer.

Emile Martel, was charged with non-support of minor children—five in number. He was arrested by Agent Richardson of the Humane society this morning on Aiken street. Martel in his defence said that he had been paying for the support of his children up to the time that he lost his employment about two months ago. He further added that he had to dispose of his furniture to get money and his loss of employment put him behind. Agent Richardson testified that the man he is working for now agreed to give Martel employment all winter and allow him $9 per week for wages. The court finally ordered Martel to turn over $4 a week to Agent Richardson to go to the support of his children.

The larceny case of John Colonis was continued from yesterday and he placed in charge of the probation officer for a period of one year.

The assault case in which Costas Pafafagos and Alexander Spyronis figured as defendants, and continued from yesterday was, by agreement with the government, dismissed.

Occupants of Balloon Rescued by Fishermen

CUXHAVEN, Oct. 14.—The Spanish balloon Castilla, one of the three missing contestants in the race for the international cup that was started from Berlin Saturday, dropped into the ocean six miles north of Helligoland this morning. A fishing boat in the vicinity sent out a small boat to rescue. Montugo, the pilot, and his assistant, Roberts, were picked up and taken back by the fishermen.

Later in the day they were landed here.

THE HOLY NAME

Big Meeting in Sacred Heart Parish

The Sacred Heart Holy Name society held a smoke talk in the school hall on Andrews street last evening and it proved to be one of the best social affairs ever held by the organization.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with the national colors and the inscription "Sacred Heart Holy Name Society" occupied a conspicuous position in the front of the hall. A picture of the Sacred Heart was in position in the center of the decoration. Seated on the platform were the clergy of the church, President Ward and the reception committee.

Prof. Hugh J. Molloy of the Normal school, who will be marshal of the Lowell division in the Boston parade on Nov. 1, was the principal speaker of the evening. When he was presented every seat in the spacious hall was occupied and he received a great ovation.

Mr. Molloy took as his subject, "Daniel O'Connell, the noted Irish statesman and patriot." He also spoke on the formation of the parade for Nov. 1.

At the close of his address Mr. Molloy was extended a rising vote of thanks by the members of the society.

The musical program was then presented. Mr. Martin Maguire, the well-known and popular tenor, sang a solo. He was forced to respond to an encore. Mr. George Carpenter, sang a solo; Mr. Walter Finnegan, gave a piano selection; Mr. Curry, favored the assemblage with a solo; Mr. Eugene Flynn, gave a recitation; Mr. Tyson, delivered "The American War" in an able manner. The Glendale quartet composed of Messrs. Haguire, Golden, Curry and Moore, all members of the society, was then introduced by Chairman Ward. Then in a capable manner, the quartet rendered several popular selections. Remarks were made by Rev. John O'Brien, O. M. I., spiritual director; James J. Ward, president; and Owen Farrell, who has charge of drilling the society. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge, which was Messrs. Green, Kennedy, Kerwin, Gorman and Farrell.

On next Thursday night the society will meet in the hall for practice in drilling, and a large attendance is expected.

FOOTBALL LEAGUE

To Be Formed by Local Mill Amateurs

The mill employees of Lowell are forming a soccer football league to play games by electricity at Washington Park. The object of the projectors is to have teams organized from the larger mills of Lowell and compete for suitable prizes.

Already the Shaw hosery has formed its team and has elected officers. The following mills will be represented in the league, or at least application has been made from them: Merrimack, Tremont and Suffolk, Lawrence, Appleton, Boott, Hamilton and Massachusetts. The Bigelow Manufacturing company is yet to be heard from and will no doubt organize teams later on when the winter season is at hand.

A mill league hockey team will be formed for ice hockey games and during the next summer season a mill league baseball team will be formed to play home games when the New England league team is on the road. A meeting of the football league will soon be called for the election of officers and for permanent organization.

NO NEWS IN BERLIN

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—No news has been received here yet of the three missing contestants in the balloon race for the international cup that was started from Berlin Saturday. These airships are the Busley, German; the Castilla, Spanish, and the Helvetia, Swiss.

Two of the competitors in Monday's endurance race also have not been reported. It is hoped that these airships succeeded in reaching Russia. A report received here from Wangerloog Island, in the North Sea, says the balloons passed over there yesterday but no further tidings of this airship have come.

Fourteen German torpedo boats are searching the North Sea for the missing balloons.

This morning Mr. Sturtevant left Lowell to enter the Gordon school of the Newton Theological institution preparatory to becoming a minister of the Baptist church. He is the son of the late Win. Sturtevant and was ready to begin his work earlier, but owing to the death of his father he waited until the present time. ## IN A UNION SUIT

Mrs. Shaw Paraded Around the House, Says Witness

The proceedings in the hearing that has to do with the appointment of a conservator to restrain Mrs. Helen E. Shaw from giving her property to the Mazdaznans was resumed in the old probate court in East Cambridge today. Sensations that were expected failed to materialize. It was thought that the garments worn by Mrs. Hutton, high priestess, would be displayed in court this afternoon. These include the howling robes, the angel wings, and the vibrators that give inspiration.

Ten witnesses were sworn for the respondent and Lawyer Jordan asked permission to recall W. H. Drew, who he said, wanted to speak about the clothing worn by Mrs. Shaw. He said that three years ago he saw Mrs. Shaw going about the house and all she had on was a union suit. He also said that Mrs. Shaw attired only in a union suit received mail from the letter carrier.

About 100 men are imprisoned in the gallery, which is 350 feet long and it is feared that they will be lost. Six bodies of men suffocated to death have already been brought to the surface. The families and friends of the imprisoned men are crowding around the shaft entrance. The work of rescue has been organized.

STRIKE SITUATION

No Change in Condition of Affairs at Lynn

LYNN, Oct. 14.—The strike of the basters in the shoe shops of this city remains practically unchanged today. This morning announcement was made that a mass meeting of strikers today would not act on the agreement proposition submitted by the manufacturers. The executive board of the strikers has not concluded its consideration of the proposition and will hold another meeting today, reporting its progress to the mass meeting. It is thought that possibly an open air meeting will be held later in the day at which formal action on the matter may be taken.

BOSTON & MAINE

Annual Meeting of Company Was Held in Lawrence Today

LAWRENCE, Oct. 14.—Although the stockholders of the Boston & Maine at their annual meeting in this city today were called upon to act upon a number of important matters affecting the general interest of the company, attention was largely attracted to the selection of the men who will have charge of the company's affairs during the coming year.

The control of the road through the possession of large blocks of the common stock, which alone has a voting power, was practically in the hands of the New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R. Co., notwithstanding nearly two years of agitation and some adverse legislation, was generally admitted before the meeting today, but whether the New Haven interests will demand important changes in the directorate was a matter which was not made public until some time after the meeting began.

As usual all the stockholders had the privilege of reaching the city by the railroad without paying a fare, upon the presentation of their stock certificates, and once here nearly all sought the city hall where the annual sessions of the Boston & Maine have been held for many years.

The call for the meeting stated that the stockholders would be asked to approve the report of the directors made public some time ago; to elect a board of officers for the coming year; to rescind a vote passed in 1905 authorizing the issuance of $5,000,000 of bonds, to take up the floating indebtedness and to authorize $12,000,000 to be issued not only for such indebtedness, but for needed improvements.

It was generally believed that action on the first and third articles would prove perfunctory, but that there might be an interesting contest for directors with strong opposition from certain stockholders who have bitterly sought the control of the New Haven in the legislatures and in the courts.

Last year's meeting proved abortive through the action of the state legislature in preventing the voting of 10,000 shares of common stock held by the New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R., thereby preventing a quorum being present. Since that meeting the possession of the big block of stock both in and out of the legislature has passed from the New Haven road into the hands of John L. Billard of Meriden, Conn., a wealthy retired business man, said to be favorable to the interests of the New Haven company so that the stock has since been regarded as practically, although not technically, in the control of the New Haven road.

After the minutes had been read it was voted to dispense with the reading of the annual report.

The first new business was the passage of a vote that the number of directors should be increased to sixteen, the present number being eleven. The list of directors prepared by the executive committee to be voted on today was then announced.

The list includes the following members of the old board: President Tuttle, Brookline; Samuel Lawrence, Medford; Alvah Sulloway, Franklin, N. H.;

DESPERATE MOB

Attacked and Destroyed Post Office

JAFFA, Palestine, Oct. 14.—A mob today attacked the Austrian postoffice here and destroyed a number of mail cars and letter boxes. The disorder grew out of the efforts of political agitators who dwell on the recent action of Austria-Hungary in annexing the provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

The trouble began on the arrival today of the Austrian mail steamer. The lighter men of the port refused to have anything to do with her and it was impossible to land her cargo. The mails and passengers were disembarked, however, after which the people moved on the postoffice and vented their anger on the property of the Austrian government.

WENT TO JAIL

Women Refused to Give Bonds

LONDON, Oct. 14.—A great crowd surrounded the Bow street police court today when the women suffragists and the men without work who were arrested yesterday during the disorders in front of the Houses of parliament were arraigned. The three leaders of the militant suffragists, Mrs. Drummond, Mrs. Pankhurst and Mrs. Christabel Pankhurst, demanded a trial by jury. Their cases were postponed until October 21. Most of the other prisoners were ordered to give bonds for their good behavior with the alternative of imprisonment for from one to two months. The women as usual elected to go to jail.

DIED IN A CELL BURT GETS THERE

Tragic Death of Women at the Police Station

A case of self-destruction took place last night in the police station shortly before midnight. The victim proved to be Mary Boyle, who was booked for drunkenness by Officer Hersey at 11:24 o'clock. She answered all questions placidly when being booked and when removed to the women's wing of the station she did not appear different from any other prisoner. Fifteen minutes after being placed in her cell, Officer John T. Whitaker, on his last round for the night, before going off duty, saw by the dim electric light the woman hanging from the iron railing of her door. She had tied an old shawl about her throat and hanged herself. Officer Whitaker slammed open the door and called for help. Officer Joseph L. Lamoureux responded promptly and the two men cut the body of the woman down with their knives. For the next half hour the officers worked over the body in an attempt to revive a spark of life. Then City Physician Forster H. Smith arrived and told the men that she was dead, and probably had been when she was first discovered. She had acted quickly. She gave her age as 31 years when being booked and had given her occupation as domestic, but it has since been ascertained she was but 47 years old. Subsequently it was learned that she was the wife of Hugh Boyle and her home 327 Worthen street.

The remains were removed to the funeral parlors of C. H. Molloy & Son and there prepared for burial. Later the body was taken to her late home. Besides her husband she is survived by four children, namely, two sons, James and John Boyle and two daughters, Margaret and Norah Boyle; also, one sister, Mrs. Samuel McCutcheon, and three brothers James and John of Ireland and Martin of Lowell.

The woman was unknown to the police at the time of her arrest and the notification of being a prisoner worked upon her so that she in sorrow and despair, if not complete mental derangement, ended her life in the tragic manner above mentioned. She must have been temporarily insane.

Though School Board Takes New Method

Somewhere it is provided that no employe of the city shall draw two salaries from the municipality and somewhere in the rules of the school department it is provided that no day school teacher shall engage in tutoring outside of regular day school hours.

Yet the school department after quitting its attempt to oust Principal

Thomas G. Robbins of the evening high school to make room for Carl D. Burt has handed Mr. Robbins the appointment in one hand and a year's leave of absence in the other, while Mr. Burt who is a regular teacher in the day high school goes back to the evening high school as its principal, thus appearing on two pay rolls and tutoring day and night.

A reception was held, Mr. and Mrs. Hickey standing under a floral bower in the reception room to receive the guests.

The newly married couple were the recipients of numerous and costly wedding gifts from their large circle of friends. The couple left on an early evening train and a shower of rice and confetti for a two weeks' trip to New York and other places of interest, and on their return will reside at Tyler park, in this city.

Mr. Hickey is the popular starter for the Boston and Northern Street Railway Co. in Merrimack square, and has the best wishes of a host of friends.

MURRAY-TEAGUE

This afternoon the marriage of Mr. John J. Murray and Miss Emma M. Teague was solemnized at St. Peter's parochial residence at five o'clock. The bride was Miss Sarah Teague, sister of the bride, and she was beautifully gowned and carried a bouquet. The best man was Mr. Joseph Donohue. After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride, 443 Gorham street, where a lunch was served to the members of the families of the contracting parties. The happy couple were the recipients of a large number of wedding presents. The bride's party left on the 5:30 train for parts unknown and upon their return will reside at 757 Broadway where their future home is all furnished for their occupancy. They will be at home to their friends after December 1st.

GENEST-BENOIT

Mr. Joseph Napoleon Genest of Lowell and Miss Sara Benoit of Nashua, were married Monday at Nashua, at St. Louis-de-Gonzague church. Rev. Fr. Millette officiated. The bride was attended by her father, Mr. Napoleon Benoit of Nashua, and the bridegroom's witness was Mr. Pierre C. Gagnon of Lowell. A reception was given at the bride's home, after which Mr. and Mrs. Genest left on an extended wedding tour. They will live in Lowell.

MARSHALL-COLBURN

A quiet home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Matthews of Milford, N. H., Tuesday evening, Sept. 29, at 5 o'clock, when their sister, Catherine Josephine Colburn of Tyngsboro was united in marriage to Mr. Wesley Peabody Marshall, also of Tyngsboro. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. W. Holden, pastor of the Unitarian church in Milford, N. H., in a tower of asparagus and white streamers. The bride was attired in white satin with applique and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The matron of honor, Mrs. Clarence E. Woodward, a niece of the bride, wore white and carried a bouquet of white asters. The groom was attended by Mr. Clarence E. Woodward as best man. The wedding march was rendered by Miss D. Eunice Marshall, sister of the groom. Only the immediate families were present. The bridal couple departed amid a shower of rice and confetti for Albany, N. Y., and a sail down the Hudson river. They will also visit Marlow, N. H., the home of the groom's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall will be at home in Tyngsboro, Mass., after Jan. 1, 1909. No cards.

CHURCH NOTES

At the union meeting in Centralville last night Rev. J. C. Carleton spoke on "The Power of the Kingdom." His sermon was followed by a service of prayer and consecration. There were representatives from many of the churches present. Rev. G. W. Fuller will be the speaker tonight. His subject will be "The Appointment of the Kingdom."

The 165th meeting of the eastern convention, composed of clergymen of the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts, will be held for conference, in St. Anne's church tomorrow. The wedding of the Rev. W. H. Faulkner, rector of St. Paul's church, Boston.

ANOTHER BREAK

Horse Taken From Barn in Tewksbury

A short time ago The Sun made mention of horse thieves who entered barns in both Westford and Chelmsford and stole horses and making good their escape. Now news of similar depredations come from Tewksbury and probably the same thief or thieves referred to above have been successfully at work there. It appears that the barn of Luke Hutchinson in Andover street, Tewksbury, was broken into some time during Monday night and a valuable Kentucky bred horse and a rubber tired buggy were stolen.

The horse and buggy were missed early yesterday, and the matter was at once reported by Mr. Hutchinson to the police. There was no clue as to which way the thieves went from the barn. The horse was a bay in color and was said to be a high stepper. The horses stolen from Westford and Chelmsford were good roadsters and were high priced.

SPANISH QUEEN

Failed to Win Walnut Hall Cup Race

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 14.—The feature of yesterday's racing was the remarkable but unsuccessful attempt of Dan Patch to lower his record of 1:51. Although he went the mile in 1:51.1, his effort, considering his age and condition, is said to have been more remarkable even than his recent performance. He was tired at the finish.

The feature event of the program was the Walnut Hall cup race, which proved a great disappointment. Urban won in straight heats and Spanish Queen, the overnight favorite, was nowhere. Summaries:

Walnut Hall Farm cup, 2:15 class, trotting; $3000, 3 in 5:

GOING FOR POLE BOMB WAS USED

Dr. Cook Says He Expects to More Trouble in Connection With Strike in New York

Reach Coveted Point

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The first message from Dr. Fred Cook, the intrepid Arctic explorer since he started for his dash to the pole from a point north of Etah, February last, has been received in this city. It was brought here by Rudolph Franke who accompanied Dr. Cook on the early stage of his journey and who received it from the explorer by messengers whom he sent back to the winter base after he was well on his way to the Farthest North.

The message was written on March 17 last about three weeks after Cook had started on the last stage of his journey. It was dated, "Polar sea, north of Cape Hubbard."

Dr. Cook wrote: "I am making a straight course for the pole. The boys are doing well and I have plenty of dogs. I hope to succeed. At any rate I shall make a desperate effort. While I expect to get back by the end of May I wish you to be ready to go to Acropolis, the island off North Star which the whalers come before the first of June and if I am not back to go home with the whalers. I think, however, we will be back."

Dr. Cook did not reach the base before Frank started for home and no work had been received from him. Members of the Peary club and the explorers have been considering for some time the advisability of sending an expedition in search of Dr. Cook. He was the only white man in his expedition. He had a large suite of Esquimaux and plenty of dogs.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The death-dealing bomb made its first appearance today in the struggle between the New York Taxi-Cab Co. and its striking chauffeurs. While no one was injured and no serious damage was done still the controversy which from the first has been marked with violent disorders has by this act reached a stage where it is likely that the sternest repressive measures will be required. Both the company and the strikers repudiate the outrage, the company declaring that a deliberate attempt was made by the strikers to destroy the property of their former employers and the strikers maintaining that the deadly missile was hurled in an attempt to turn public sympathy against them or by some misguided sympathizer. The bomb was thrown early today into the big enclosure in Eighth avenue between 56th and 57th streets where 250 taxicabs belonging to the New York Taxi-Cab Co. were stored for the night. The explosion shook buildings for blocks and hundreds of persons in the neighborhood were thrown into excitement. Police details from many stations were rushed to the scene and for a time all their efforts were taxed to the limit in controlling the great crowd. The explosion though doing small damage to the taxicabs stored in the big enclosure tore a great hole in the ground and stamped a number of special policemen and strike-breakers who were in the vicinity. One of the special policemen declares that he saw the bomb thrown over a high fence around the enclosure. It struck near a big tank of gasoline but fortunately the tank was not injured and no fire followed the explosion.

Some of the strike leaders expressed a belief that it was not a bomb at all but an explosion of gasoline due to the inexperience of some of the men who have taken the places of strikers.

HONORS-EVEN

McKINNON AND CONNOLLY BOX-ED A DRAW

DOVER, N. H., Oct. 14.—Bill McKinnon of Boston and Bartley Connolly of Portland boxed 10 rounds to a draw before 300 fans at Lowell's theatre last night. Both men were in prime condition. McKinnon showing up in better form than on his first appearance here several months ago.

The men did most of their fighting at close quarters and kept referee Tom Sawyer of Rockland, Me. busy parrying them. McKinnon introduced a rapid series of uppercuts on the jaw with his right during the clinches, alternating with taps on the short ribs. The chief effect of these fancy touches was to bring smiles to Connolly's features.

Connolly's efforts were largely exerted to keeping his opponent off at fighting distance. McKinnon's speed was a feature all the way. Connolly forced the fighting in the fourth and fifth rounds and landed heavily with his right occasionally. During these onslaughts McKinnon blocked cleverly. In the sixth and seventh rounds they again fought at close range, neither securing an advantage. In the eighth McKinnon forced Connolly to the ropes but put him on the defence, but Connolly never weakened. In the two last rounds, which the crowd seemed to regard rather light for a windup, the honors were even.

The preliminary was a six-round draw between Tom Webber of Portland and Young Nadeau of Somersworth.

BANKER-MOORE

WILL GO BEFORE A JURY TODAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Charles W. Morse, organizer of the American Ice Co. and the Consolidated S. S. Co. and who until the panic of a year ago controlled a number of banks in this city, will face a jury in the criminal branch of the U. S. circuit court today. With Alfred C. C. former president of the National Bank of North America, Morse was indicted by the federal grand jury last March.

Violation of the national banking laws and conspiracy are alleged in the indictments.

WRESTLING BOUT

ROGERS AND WESTERGARD MEET NEXT MONDAY

After careful consideration, the board of police has granted a license for a wrestling match between Yankee Rogers and Jesse H. Westergard, the bout to be held in Associate hall Monday night of next week.

In granting this license, the board believes that the turbulent scenes enacted at the last match will not be repeated. While Rogers and Westergard are undoubtedly full of determination to win, they are strangers to each other and to Lowell; and the hysterical stunts of the Conkle-Young Prokos match will not again be in evidence.

The impression which has perhaps been created by a newspaper story that the board of police is antagonistic to the Greek people of Lowell does the board an injustice. The board takes the position that all wrestling matches shall be conducted in an orderly manner, but does not attempt to say from what nationality any contestant shall be selected. All the board asks is clean sport.

Turkey Also Asks Cash Compensation From Bulgaria

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—Neither Austria-Hungary or Turkey has yet given its consent in the proposed agreement to settle the existing situation in the Near East. Austria-Hungary declines to participate unless it is agreed that the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina be not discussed and accepted and legalized by the powers without debate. Turkey desires a free hand in Macedonia as well as cash compensation from Bulgaria for the Oriental railroad in eastern Rumelia and some other outstanding claims. All the powers are in favor of a fixed program and a majority of them are inclined to omit from the discussions the question of the passage of the Dardanelles and the Cretan proclamation for a union with Greece.

Mob in London Incited by British Women

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The climax of the suffragette campaign was reached last night when an enormous mob hemmed in parliament and stopped the traffic in all streets leading to Westminster. For more than three hours the crowd, sufficed and incited by the police, interfered with the proceedings, broke windows and disorganized things generally in the center of London.

The heroine of the day was Mrs. Travers Symonds, formerly secretary to James Keir Hardie, the socialist and independent member of parliament, who resided the door of the house of commons by strategy. The house was solemnly debating a bill to prohibit children from smoking cigarettes, when the woman dashed past the doorkeeper to a position in front of the speaker's chair and shouted shrilly:

"I have of discussing children and talk about the women."

Three officials seized Mrs. Symonds and carried her out bodily. She was then led to the outer door and dismissed. As a result of her inroad an order was issued that hereafter women should not be admitted to the building on any pretext whatever, and in the future the historic grille will not screen feminine spectators.

"Rush" Brings Out 100,000

The appeal issued by the suffragettes a few days ago for 30,000 persons to help them "rush" parliament at half past seven o'clock last evening was the most successful stroke yet. Not less than twice that number responded to the call and nine-tenths of these were young people who came to see the fun. There were also a few hundred of the unemployed and their sympathizers.

Parliament was in a state of siege. A close triple line of police was drawn around the three sides of the square in front of the building. The yard within the gates swarmed with police and 200 guarded the terrace in the rear against assault by water, which the women twice attempted. A small fleet of police boats also patrolled the Thames approaches.

All the mounted police in London and suburbs had been utilized at this center, and loads of bay were unstacked in the grounds for the forces. The whole police force, together with cavalry, infantry and marines, numbering more than 5000, was kept busy in restraining the pushing, struggling masses, especially about Trafalgar square, where the Nelson monument looked down upon the dense crowd. All directions, with buses, motor cars and cabs, mostly filled with sightseers, trying to thread their way through.

The police kept the streets adjoining the house of commons clear, elsewhere they endeavored to the best of their ability to keep the people moving.

Let Themselves Loose
The crowds cheered, sang songs and hoisted, giving voice to all the sarcastic remarks characteristic of a London crowd. These were aimed in a semi-good-natured manner at the suffragettes, who, distinguished by their orange sashes, swarmed everywhere, distributing tracts.

A delegation of 12 suffragettes, which approached the police cordon and was formally refused admission to parliament, attempted a football rush, but the police chivalrously refused roughness. The ladies, which approached the line, were driven off with little saving grace, one across Westminster bridge and the other to St. James park. The police were

CHILDREN SAVED
40 Taken From a Burning Building

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—Policemen, firemen and citizens stopping about the smoke-filled rooms of the Church Home for Orphans and Destitute Children on N street South Boston, late last night rescued some forty little ones whose lives were endangered by a fire which started in the basement and quickly spread to the fourth story.

Some 20 children from the care of four to sixteen years live at the home which is conducted by the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts.

The fire started in the basement from some cause unknown. About half the children, including the older ones, were able to make their way in safety from the building at this point.

The younger ones who were on the second floor were too frightened to help themselves, however. The first citizens to reach the site immediately began the little ones and one by one they were carried down the smoke-filled corridors and stairways.

ENJOYABLE TIME
MEMBERS OF MIDDLESEX CHAPTER, S. A. R. HAD BANQUET

Old Middlesex chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution met last night in D. L. Page's hall in Merrimack street. The members assembled about 8:45 o'clock, plates being laid for fifty. An excellent dinner was served after which the business meeting was held, in commemoration of General Burgen's surrender which took place during the early part of October, 1777.

President Charles H. Conant was chairman for the occasion, and introduced as the first speaker, Hon. Edward C. Battis of Salem, president of the state society, who read a paper last night on "The Surrender of Burgoyne."

Mr. Battis' address was in the nature of a historical story of the events and incidents of the battle of Saratoga, and was received with much interest.

George W. Parnass read a very pleasing paper on "Wit and Humor of the Revolutionary Period," which was very entertaining and amusing. Mr. Parnass read a length from the newspapers of the time, and gave various anecdotes of the war which showed that our ancestors possessed a strong sense of humor.

Richard General Philip Reads of the city, who has been retired after brilliant service in the army department, was one of the speakers down on the program, but he was unable to appear.

After speeches by many of the other prominent members of the order, the meeting broke up at about 10 o'clock. The other speakers were, Henry A. Smith, A. G. Walsh, Henry H. Harris, Samuel W. Stevens, Frank W. Hall, Rev. B. A. Whitcomb and Dr. M. G. Parker.

Arnold Tells of Experience in Balloon

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—The second of the three American balloons that started in the race for the international trophy on Sunday from Schmargendorf has met disaster in the North Sea. The "Saint Louis," manned by N. H. Arnold of North Adams, Mass., and Henry J. Hewitt, was carried over land by treacherous air currents and later in the haze the aeronauts lost their bearings until suddenly Monday night they saw the guard lights of an unknown coast. This meant that they must descend or risk the danger of being driven far out of the tract of vessels.

They chose the former course and for an hour they were buffeted by the waves, almost giving up in despair. Eventually they were rescued by a life boat, and the first intimation that an accident had occurred to the St. Louis was conveyed in a wireless message from Arnold, who "lost everything" in the North Sea last night.

Following so closely on the dramatic experience of A. Holland Forbes and Augustus Post, the navigators of the Conqueror, which burst at an altitude of 4000 feet soon after the start of the race, the disaster to the St. Louis was the subject of great interest in Berlin throughout the day, and up to midnight no details of the rescue had been learned by the officials of the Aero club or the friends of the men whose whereabouts had not been ascertained.

The Associated Press, however, was able to learn from Mr. Arnold at Wilhelm's Haven, to which place he had been transported by one of the torpedo boats, which last evening was sent out to render assistance to any of the balloons who might drift out to sea. Mr. Arnold told a graphic life story of the descent and rescue by a life boat.

"All day Monday, with the exception of the early afternoon, we were unable to see the earth and we lowered the balloon repeatedly to communicate with the people to ascertain our whereabouts. Apparently we could not make them understand, but this probably was due to our poor German. Finally we decided to risk proceeding, still having 20 sacks of ballast.

"Moving in a northwesterly direction in the evening, we passed a city, the lights of which were visible five miles to the west and we learned later that it was Bremen Haven. Soon afterwards we noticed light houses and buoys which convinced us that we were moving above big water, but we had no idea where we were.

"In order to avoid being drifted out the line of ship traffic, we concluded to go down to the water, but before doing this we put on life preservers. This was a perilous task, for it was dark and there was great danger of being swamped in the basket.

"In order to avoid being drifted out the line of ship traffic, we concluded to go down to the water, but before doing this we put on life preservers. This was a perilous task, for it was dark and there was great danger of being swamped in the basket.

"I tried to save the St. Louis club balloon by ripping it up, but the rope was lashed out of my hands. About ten minutes later I was picked up by the boat which, in the meantime, had saved my companion, Hewitt. We were landed here, too tired to proceed to Berlin, where we will go to-day."

Captain J. C. McCoy, the commander of the American balloon, American which landed yesterday, reached Berlin last night. He gave an interesting account of his journey in the air. "We flew 150 miles," he said, "and then were becalmed for four hours. The wind shifted and we returned in the direction of Berlin which we observed Monday night. We then traveled northward in a thick fog and were unable to read the maps. Suddenly we discovered that we were over the water and decided to descend. This was accomplished with some difficulty, and we landed in a tree top near Wismar, on the shores of the Baltic. We were within 10 yards of the steep cliffs but we climbed out of our dangerous position, with the assistance of fishermen. We were obliged to cut down the trees in order to save the balloon."

"The duration of our flight was 35 hours and seven minutes, during which we did not sleep at anytime. Although we were obliged to descend, we had sufficient ballast to stay up for another day."

Three of the balloons in the international race have not been reported, and it is hoped that these escaped the changeable lower currents which affected the other competitors and succeeded at higher altitudes in reaching Russia.

A report received from Wangerloog Island in the North Sea says that a balloon passed over there, but that there were no further tidings of it. The flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers is searching the North Sea, where a thick fog prevails.

The English balloon "Banish," so far as present estimates go, has covered the longest distance in the race, 275 miles.

BILLERICA
The board of selectmen of Billerica has decided to have the polling place for precinct 2, at the coming state and presidential election, in Union hall, North Billerica. It was the original intention of the board to have the voting done this year at the Mathew hall, but this plan was changed. The republican club room in Elm street has been used for voting at state elections for many years, but it was considered inadequate on account of its size. Union hall is not nearly as centrally located as either of the places mentioned above, but being town property it was thought by many to be the proper building in which to hold the election voting.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Was Greeted by Great Crowds in Nebraska Yesterday

WAHOO, Neb., Oct. 14.—William J. Bryan yesterday campaigned in his own state and last night in this place completed the first of his three days' tour of Nebraska. Big crowds greeted him at every point and when his day's work was over he had delivered 21 speeches, varying in length from five minutes to an hour. His arguments were confined mostly to the stands of Mr. Taft and Governor Hughes, who recently visited Nebraska. The audiences were mostly farmers and the democratic candidate frequently moved them to loud applause. A car load of speakers was brought along out of Omaha and at each place visited, one was dropped off to complete the work of expounding democratic doctrine. Mr. Bryan accused Mr. Taft of not making the speech in Nebraska that he had been making in other parts of the country.

"He did not discuss the guarantee of bank deposits," he said, "doubtless because he was informed that the people of Nebraska are in favor of the guarantee of deposits. His appeal was to the farmers and it was based on the fact that the farmers have had good crops and fair prices. But did the republican party give you good crops? All who think that the republican party is responsible for good crops should thank the republican party. Those who believe as we do that the good crops are due to the fertility of the soil, to seasonal rains and to the warm sunshine should thank the Almighty."

He asked his audience if the republicans had given them high prices. "Are not agricultural prices," he inquired, "as high in Canada as they are here? Are not agricultural prices as high in England as they are here? Have not values increased in Europe as well as in America? You must find some cause that is as extended as the results which you are trying to account for, and the influence of the republican party is confined to the United States. The farmers should not be deceived here, for a similar argument was addressed to laboring men eight years ago."

He then spoke of the empty dinner pail. It was void, he said, because the bottom had dropped out of it and now the farmers were told that the republicans are to give them a full basket. The republican party, he declared, had no policy that promised benefit to the farmer, "but he is the victim of all the abuses that have grown up under republican rule. What do they say in their platform now? Why I am almost ashamed to tell you what they say. What they say is so awfully bad that the Omaha Bee thought I said it and printed an editorial against it. Now is not that pretty hard to have a republican platform so bad that it would be mistaken for one of my speeches? The Bee thought I said it and law—There was more truth in that editorial of the Bee than I have seen in it for the last 31 years."

Discussing reforms, the candidate said that there was not one that Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Taft stood for that he had not fought for before either of them spoke on the subject to anybody. In the opinion of Mr. Bryan, Governor Hughes was not the kind of man to give advice to people who want remedial legislation.

"Mr. Hughes," he said, "came out here to tell you that our plan was ridiculous and he laughed all over the state and all over the West, laughed so heartily at the absurdity of our plan that he could not get himself in a condition to suggest any plan himself. It may be a laughing matter for Governor Hughes, but it is not a laughing matter for the people of this country. All of you who think that we do not need a remedy, for he thinks that we do not need a remedy, you will not be satisfied with the man who proposes no remedy."

After speaking at Wahoo, Mr. Bryan returned to Fairmount.

The first of his twenty-three speeches day was scheduled for North Bend at 9 o'clock and the last at Hebron at 8:20 at night.

In the suit of Wallace Drew vs. Harry N. Parker, it being alleged that a horse belonging to plaintiff had contracted glanders while being pastured by defendant, a verdict in favor of the plaintiff was brought in. The verdict carried with it the sum of $85.

The case of Clifford Cochran and Elsie Lovett vs. the Boston Elevated corporation, is on trial today. Plaintiffs allege that they were run down by a Boston Elevated car in Broadway, Everett, in November, 1907. Each names as an attorney the amount of $500. Greenwood & Eastman for plaintiffs, and Fossick & Counihan for defendant.

FINANCIER C. W. MORSE FACES A FEDERAL TRIAL

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The trial of Charles W. Morse and of Alfred H. Curtis, who was Morse's president of the National bank of North America, New York, prior to the panic a year ago, on indictments for alleged violations of the national banking law and for alleged conspiracy begins before Judge Hough in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court in New York on Oct. 14. The two men were jointly indicted last March by the federal grand jury after an investigation of their operations in the National bank of North America. There is a vast mass of evidence to be submitted and it is expected that the trial will occupy several days. Much interest centers in the case because of the scope of Morse's operations and the effort he is now making to rehabilitate himself in the financial world.

HUSBAND GETS $1400 NEAR DEATH

Wife Says He Married for Money

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—One dollar, payable in monthly installments of 25 cents, is the bequest given Andrew Heckler by his late wife, Catherine Heckler of Portland, Ore. Her will was filed in the Cook county probate court yesterday. The husband is referred to as an "individual."

The will was filed by Atty. B. S. Pague of Portland, who is bequeathed a cut glass water bottle. Mrs. Isabella Vance, a friend, is given the remainder of the estate.

"Thus I dispose of my personal property," says the will, "for the reason that Andrew Heckler told me he had married me for my money and after he had got all he could get he deserted me and vilified me; and I give all, except the cut glass water bottle, to Mrs. Isabella Vance, for the reason that she has been kind and considerate of me and to me and is more like a daughter to me than only a friend; and, too, I know that she will see to it that I am properly and decently buried and that my grave is suitably marked."

The couple were married in San Diego, Cal., Heckler being a native of that city. His wife had inherited a fortune of many thousand dollars and real estate holdings here, in California and elsewhere. The bulk of the real estate is in this city.

Lives of Children Were in Danger

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 14.—A fire at 33 Appleton street in a 2-story dwelling owned by Miss Mary Buzzell and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Taylor on the first floor and Howard H. Stiles and family on the second floor late yesterday was attended by sensational features and a narrow escape from death.

Fire originated in a storage room in the attic and was not discovered until it had obtained a firm grip on the building. Mrs. Stiles and her three children, an infant 6 weeks old, one aged 3 and one of 4 years, were in the upper part of the house and but for Charles D. Steele, who carried the baby out in a basket, and other persons residing in the vicinity who rendered prompt aid, including the firemen of the Gen. Stark company, they would have perished. Mrs. Taylor, an aged woman, had to be carried out also, and the wildest excitement prevailed for a time. The loss by fire and water is estimated as above $2000.

GRAY ORDINANCE As Amended Goes Through Ordinance Committee

The committee on ordinance and legislation met last evening to consider the ordinance prepared by Alderman Gray, relative to street excavations. All expenses for filling in streets must be borne by the person or persons responsible for the excavations under the ordinance, and the work is to be done by the street department.

Alderman Gray was present and he explained why he had drawn up the ordinance. He said the city streets were being excavated in consequence of the carelessness of citizens in various sections and he believed the time ripe to take action.

Alderman Gray offered an amendment to his ordinance exempting the Lowell Gas Light company and the Lowell Water board. The Lowell Electric Light corporation asked for exemption, saying that they would attend to the filling in under the direction of the superintendent of streets.

The committee voted to recommend the adoption of the ordinance, with the Lowell Gas Light company and the Lowell Electric Light corporation exempt from its operation.

NORTHERN ITALY

Beautiful Lecture By Rev. Mr. Kennigott

At the First Trinitarian church last evening Rev. George F. Kennigott gave the first of a series of five lectures on "Northern Italy." The lecture was highly interesting and a large audience was present. The lecture included descriptions of Venice, Milan and the Italian lakes, with a series of charming views which greatly enhanced their value and vividness.

His description of the beautiful Italian lakes and their incomparable scenery was particularly striking. He closed with a study of the peasant life of Italy, relating a most interesting picture of them that appears in the American mind.

WOLFBORO, N. H., Oct. 14.—A loss of nearly $25,000 was caused late last night by the burning of the Goodwin block, situated in the heart of the business section of the town. The block was a long, one-story wooden structure. The fire, which is thought to have started from a defective chimney, had gained great headway before being discovered, and for a time threatened to spread to adjoining property, but was confined to the one block. Four stores were burned out. Joseph W. Robins, drug store, Frank P. Morrill restaurant, Sylvester A. Edgerly, boot and shoe store, and Charles H. Johnson, dry goods. The block was owned by Mrs. Eliza Goodwin, whose loss is estimated at $15,000. The property was insured for about two-thirds.

DEMOCRATIC COUNCILMEN.

Democratic councilmen should not concern themselves so much about the burning desire of some republicans to elect a different city physician. Let them pull their own chestnuts out of the fire. Don't help to displace a good man for a novice.

THE CARPET STRIKE.

The carpet strike has been declared off, but there seems to be no inclination on the part of the management to take back those who have thus surrendered unconditionally. If this is the result of blacklisting we rather think that it is an extreme and mistaken policy and one that is likely to militate against the company at some future time.

THEY'RE WORKING FOR TAFT.

Almost anyone would be a socialist if they could travel about the country, as does Debs, in a special train, with chefs, valets, secretaries and a brass band. By the way, who puts up the money for that display of regal splendor?—Jackson Citizen Press.

There is little doubt that Debs' traveling expenses are paid by the republican party the opinion of his followers to the contrary notwithstanding.

If Mr. Debs is in the employ of the republican party on his campaign tour he is not going to acquaint his followers of the fact. There is good reason to believe also that republican money is being used to secure the service of the Hearst papers in a crusade of the vilest vituperation against Mr. Bryan.

It is plain that the republican party relies in a great measure upon the socialists and the independence league to defeat Mr. Bryan in the close states. Here are two societies that are shouting for the laboring man and the victims of trust oppression, and yet they are both aiding the party that piles burdens on the workingman and that is in alliance with the oppressive trusts that have passed beyond the control of the federal government.

PUNISHMENT OF SCHOOL CHILDREN.

The method of punishing a child adopted by a Peabody school teacher that resulted in having a boy shut up in a dark closet for twenty hours including the night, is one that should never be adopted. The teacher in a moment of rash and evident excitement to correct the boy for some misdemeanor shoved him into a book closet and locked the door on him. That was the last she thought of the boy until on the following morning at eleven o'clock she went to the closet and found the little fellow half dead.

All during the night the child's parents of course were frantic over his absence and had the police enlisted to assist in finding him. The case was really very aggravating, and the only explanation of it is, that the young teacher was in a state of mental excitement in view of the fact that she was to be a bridemaid that evening.

This and other forms of punishment not specifically laid down by school committees should be prohibited. The method of placing pepper on the child's tongue is equally reprehensible, and this is but one of many freak means of punishment occasionally resorted to by some teachers.

SHELDON IN THE TRUSTS.

A short time ago the republicans made a great ado on the statement of President Roosevelt that Governor Haskell of Oklahoma, president of the democratic national committee had at one time been in the employ of certain trusts. As a result of President Roosevelt's charge Governor Haskell resigned in order that he might in no way embarrass Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Bryan, however, soon demonstrated that the treasurer of the republican national committee, Mr. Sheldon, was not only connected with trusts but was a stock holder and prominent member of some of the largest trusts in the country. The following are the trusts in which Mr. Sheldon is financially interested:

American Locomotive Automobile Company.
Bethlehem Steel Company.
American Locomotive Company.
Cincinnati Northern Railroad Company.
Detroit Edison Company.
Electrical Securities Corporation.
Laclede Gas Light Company.
Locomotive and Machine Company, Limited, Montreal.
Locomotive Security Company.
Metropolitan Trust Company.
Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company.
Milwaukee Light, Heat and Traction Company.
National Copper Bank.
New Jersey Terminal Dock and Improvement Company.
North American Company.
Republic Iron and Steel Company.
Rogers Locomotive Works.
St. Louis Transit Company.
Union Bag and Paper Company.
Union Electric Light and Power Company.
Union Electric Light, Heat and Power Company.
United Railways Company of St. Louis.

It is plain that the republican official does not consider it wrong to be connected with the trusts as he has not resigned and has no intention of resigning. Any such action on his part would be contrary to the alliance that exists between the republican party and the trusts for the purpose of retaining the republicans in office.

Strange that President Roosevelt should have stirred the country with his thunderbolts because Treasurer Haskell is reputed to have done legal work for a trust, while his highness failed completely to discover Sheldon's trust record. There is none so blind as those who will not see.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIGOROUS OCTOBER CAMPAIGN

Providence Tribune: Excluding the Monday before election there now remain but seventeen working campaign days, and they are evidently going to be very busy ones. Though the republicans profess almost supreme confidence, and certainly have reason to feel great confidence, their plans point to the hardest October campaign they have made since 1892, when they were so soundly whipped. Much of the work will now be in organizing for getting the voters out, but it is also observed that all the cabinet officials and other high Washington officials of speaking ability are hurrying out upon the stump. The president, however, is understood to have decided that it is not expedient for him to show his hand conspicuously in the rest of the campaign. It is a wise decision. Whether his noisy interference hitherto has hurt Mr. Taft's chances may be open to question; but it certainly has not helped them.

DEMANDS OF CAMPAIGNING

N. Y. Evening Post: Modern campaigning is more and more coming to require the physique of a Titan and the voice of a Stentor. To speak night and day, in doors and out, in texts and from automobiles and car platforms, in wind and rain and snow and fumes—and this with scarcely time to rest or sleep—is an ordeal which lays low all but the stoutest. Gov. Hughes is a man of shrewd endurance, but his voice gave out yesterday. Judge Taft is a man of great strength, and a glutton for work, yet his touring has almost broken him down. Even the athletic Roosevelt could not hold the pace in 1900. All the greater wonder is it, by comparison, that Bryan goes on his resounding way without a sign of fatigue or housewifery. Long practice counts for much, in his case, no doubt, but the natural endowment is extraordinary. If Carlyle could have witnessed his feats of stump-oratory, he would have withdrawn his backing of Webster against the universe.

THE PRESIDENT'S SOLE AUTHORITY

Harpers Weekly—Now. The only basis of the president's assertion that $200,000 was found in the democratic treasury, and that Haskell had tried to bribe Monahan, was a mere statement to that effect by Mr. Hearst, whom the president himself over and over again has denounced as wholly untrustworthy, has compared to a skunk, and has pronounced the virtual assassin of McKinley. Haskell seems to be a service at Washington of evidence has been produced to support the bribery story. On the contrary, every person who might be supposed to know, including Monahan himself, had denied it flatly before the president made his "identical" remark. The $200,000 was too silly, of course, for even words from any other source. Given the Hearst papers had taken it back before the president spoke. Not that retraction was necessary. No person possessing a grain of sense ever believed for an instant that Messrs. Ryan and Belmont had kept this large sum of money to turn over to Messrs. Mack and Haskell for use in a Bryan campaign. Did the president believe it? Not for a second. He has more grains of sense than one. He knew, of course, that the story was a lie. And yet he gave to it sanction of his great authority, his great position, his great reputation as a man of probity, pledged above all things, to fair as well as honest dealing. Now, this may be effective campaigning or may not. It may help Taft or may not. We don't know. What we do feel is that every intelligent and fair-minded person must realize that such talk is inexpressibly cheap and demagogic.

fered through their connection with the army during the Civil war, the nation is making amends to them gradually and voluntarily. Any attempt at a grab game will weaken respect and invite opposition.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

To Bertha Schultz, a young dressmaker in Hamburg, Germany, $10,000 was bequeathed on condition that she never married a man engaged in an intellectual occupation. She is already engaged to an accountant, and she and her fiancé are now endeavoring to persuade the law that the work is purely mechanical.

Mrs. Josephine Osborne, a prominent New York authority on women's costumes, has just returned from Paris and London, but she brings none of the widely advertised diaphanous gowns. "The sheath gown," says Mrs. Osborne, "is a myth. Nobody wears them in Paris or London, and never will wear them. And they will never come to this city. A dressmaker in Paris sent some sheath gowns out on the streets for advertising purposes. She received her advertising, but the sheath gown died there."

Miss Josephine Casey, who has done much for the working girls of Chicago, is to come to Boston as the secretary of the Boston Women's Trade Union League. In Chicago she came to take up the cause of the working girls because of her position in the elevated railway, where every day she saw the crowds of poor working women going to their hard labor for which they received so little, and home again to their miserable homes at night. She was moved to espouse their cause and succeeded in so well organizing the women that they could demand and secure better treatment.

Miss Addams and other prominent women assisted her in her efforts, and Boston women have asked her to repeat the work there that she did in Chicago.

Miss Josephine C. Delmonico, great-granddaughter of the late John Jacob Astor, is at the head of the two valuable restaurant properties of that name in New York.

Miss Anna C. Wilson, one of the four women delegates to the recent International Typographical union convention in Boston, is at the head of the movement to raise $1,000,000 for the endowment of the printer's home at Colorado Springs. She is a trustee of the home, having been elected over eight men who were anxious for the place. She is one of the expert machine operators in the government service at Washington and has been a member of the Typographical union for 15 years.

The body of the late Bishop Henry C. Potter of New York will be interred in the crypt of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, on Morningside Heights, New York, on October 20, the date of the 25th anniversary of Bishop Potter's ordination to the bishopric.

Mrs. Mary McGeehan, who was 105 last month, has lived on oatmeal all her life, and works about the farm at Brookhollow, Donegal, Ire., with her children and grandchildren. She is the widow of a tenant farmer and her faculties are practically unimpaired.

It has become known that the author of "Agnes," the emotional drama being played with success at the leading role, is Mrs. Sydney Drew, wife of Sydney Drew, the actor, and sister-in-law of John Drew. Mrs. Drew disguised her identity under the nom de plume of George Cameron.

The widow of Governor Richard Yates, war governor of Illinois, whom the people called "Dick," and the mother of the ex-governor of the same name, recently died at Jackson, Wis., in this state. That was the birthplace of Mrs. Yates, who was 86 years old. Since the early '30s she had lived in the house built by her husband, which he modeled after Webster's home.

The Earl of Rosslyn, who last year was divorced by his second wife, who was a Miss Anna Robinson of New York, has been married in a registry office in London to Vera Bayley, the daughter of an ex-officer of lanciers.

A LIVELY BLAZE A LABOR LEADER

Barn Was Badly Damaged by Fire

Shortly before 8 o'clock last night an alarm from box 35 summoned the fire department to a blaze in a barn belonging to Patrick Hunt in the rear of his residence, 25 Manchester street. Before the fire department arrived the blaze had gained a good headway. The barn with the exception of some hay, was empty. The loss will be considerable, though partly covered by insurance placed with Fred C. Church and T. C. Lee. One wagon standing near the barn was badly burned before it could be removed, and an adjoining shed and the residence, not 30 feet from the barn, were saved by the vigorous efforts of the firemen. The origin of the fire is unknown, Mr. Hunt being away when the blaze first discovered. Mrs. Hunt was also absent from her home, being in a near-by store conducted by Mrs. Nellie L. Golden.

Neighbors were the first to notice the fire and attracted the attention of a man who pulled in the box alarm while others in the meantime sent a telephone alarm to the Gorham street engine house and the apparatus, carriages and steamers from there were on their way when the bells were sounding the signal call.

Division 11, A. O. H. Accepted invitation of United Irish League

Division 11, A. O. H., held a well-attended and enthusiastic meeting in Hibernian hall last night. A report relative to the county convention held in this city last Wednesday was read and several applications for membership were received. A communication from the United Irish league to the effect that a meeting was to be held next Sunday night at which the envoys from Ireland were to be present was read and accepted.

The meeting will be addressed by Joseph Devlin, national president of the A. O. H., of Great Britain and Ireland. The meeting, it was stated, will be free to all.

John H. Hickey, the genial treasurer, passed around the cigars, celebrating the arrival of a little girl at his home on Perry street a few days ago. Short addresses were delivered by several members.

At Leather Workers' hall on Sunday, Oct. 23, will be observed the anniversary of Branch O'Neill Crowl's Irish National Foresters Benefit Society of this city. This organization will meet tomorrow night and will take a vote on the sending of an invitation to the president of the McKimley Orange Lodge to attend the coming anniversary celebration of Branch O'Neill N. F.

Said to Have Been Promised Good Job by President

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The democratic national committee, through John J. Gordon, assistant and acting chief of the press bureau at headquarters, last night made public the following statement:

"It was stated at the national democratic committee headquarters last night that President Roosevelt, by promise of office, has succeeded in having one of the big men of the American Federation of Labor desert President Gompers in his advocacy of the election of Mr. Bryan for the presidency.

"The labor leader in question is Daniel J. Keefe of Detroit, president of the International Association of Longshoremen, and one of the vice-presidents of the Federation of Labor.

"The democratic committee alleges that Keefe and the president were closeted for several hours in Washington on Saturday, Oct. 3, and the offer of being named commissioner-general of immigration, made vacant by the death of Commissioner Sargent, was made, in consideration of Keefe's reputing Mr. Gompers and the executive council of the federation. "Keefe, on Saturday last, issued a statement in which he said, 'I am going to vote for William H. Taft.' "It is pointed out that on Sept. 26 last the executive council of the American Federation of Labor issued a circular calling on all organizations of labor to work for the defeat of Mr. Taft and republican congressmen seeking re-election, and Mr. Keefe authorized his signature to be attached to it.

"The source of the democratic committee's information was not divulged last night, but the information was offered that if Mr. Keefe or President Roosevelt deny the charge, another big labor leader now in New York will come forward with facts to prove that the offer was made, and Mr. Keefe accepted it, and has commenced to make good his part of the deal."

The train was climbing a steep grade at the time, but the tender went bumping along the track for two car lengths before it was brought to a stop. On one side of the track was an embankment of about twenty feet and if the tender had plunged over it the result would have been serious.

AFTER MRS. HILTON

Petitioner's Attorney Kittredge Wanted Her Removed

When Mrs. Shaw Took Witness Stand Claiming She Was Trying to Hypnotize the Respondent—More Sensations

The proceedings in the hearing that has to do with the appointment of a conservator to restrain Mrs. Helen E. Shaw from giving her property to the Mazdaznans was resumed in the old probate court in East Cambridge today. Sensations that were expected failed to materialize. It was thought that the garments worn by Mrs. Hilton, high priestess, would be displayed in court this afternoon. These include the flowing robes, the angel wings, and the vibrators that give inspiration.

Ten witnesses were sworn for the respondent and Lawyer Jordan asked permission to recall W. H. Drew, who he said, wanted to speak about the clothing worn by Mrs. Shaw. He said that three years ago he saw Mrs. Shaw going about the house and all she had on was a union suit. He also said that Mrs. Shaw uttered only in a union suit received mail from the letter carrier.

The real sensation in the hearing on the Mazdaznan case in Cambridge was sprung at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon, when Mrs. Ellen Shaw, respondent in the case was called to the witness stand.

The moment that Mrs. Shaw stepped upon the stand before her had noticed personally that Mrs. Hilton would have her head and make other motions toward the witness, which in the light of the charge made against her by the other witness, Mrs. Dutton, led him to believe that Mrs. Hilton was endeavoring to exert a hypnotic influence over the witnesses.

A. Emerson Maxfield of Gosham, N. H., was the next witness.

Mr. Maxfield is Mrs. Shaw's brother and an uncle of Mrs. Dutton. Witness testified in answer to questions by Mr. Wilson, in substance, as follows:

"Have visited my sister's house and she has visited at my house."

"She has spoken to and consulted me with reference to her business matters several times since her husband's death."

"I think her general health has improved."

"The last season Mrs. Shaw was in New Hampshire, 1906, she did her own housework."

"She spoke to me about the sale of the house, shortly after her husband's death. I advised her to sell it. She said she wanted to get it off her hands."

"She owned a home in Mill Village, N. H. The home is furnished complete and ready for occupancy at any time. It's the old homestead."

"I visited the American House in Lowell when they lived there. She was a very busy woman about the house, working all the time and looking after things."

"What was the condition of your mother in 1912?" asked Mr. Wilson.

"She was locked in a cage in her room." Witness could not remember date of mother's death.

"Have you seen any altars in Mrs. Shaw's house?"

"No."

"Ever heard her say anything about visions with her husband or son, or about vibrations that they tell about?"

"No."

"Do you know Mabel Dutton?"

"Yes, sir. She came to my house before these proceedings. She came up to see if I would help her out in this and I told her no, that her aunt was better able to handle her affairs than she was. My wife ordered her out of the house."

"Has she acquired any general reputation for truth and veracity?"

"She has."

"Is that it?"

"Are you a brother of Mrs. Thurber?"

"I am; she lives near me."

"Did you ever notice anything wrong about her?"

"No, sir. She has a heart trouble, that is all."

"Mrs. Thurber is Mrs. Dutton's mother?"

"Yes."

Cross-Examination

Cross-examined by Mr. Kittredge, Mr. Maxfield said he could not tell just how long he remained with his sister after Mr. Shaw died. He thought he remained there about ten days.

"You advised her to sell her home?"

"I did."

"Did she tell you she was going to Montreal?"

"She did."

"Did she tell you how much she had given to the Mazdaznan temple?"

"Yes, I think she said $500."

"If she had said $500 would you have turned her mind affected, or that anything was wrong?"

"No, sir."

Witness said he never heard Mrs. Shaw say that her husband after death came back that he might be with him.

He never saw her take any dew baths; never knew that the "little man" had blessed beads and put them on Mrs. Shaw's neck; never saw Hilton's specific

No. 3, advertised on the temple window, and he never read "Inner Studies."

He didn't know Dr. Handish, and when asked about Mazdaznanism, witness put a pronunciation upon it that was brand new to the court.

"Mazdaz-nass" is about the way he spoke it.

Witness did not think it was any of his business what Mrs. Shaw did or what the Mazdaznans did.

"What would you think about a neighbor of yours who would join such a cult associate with people who wrote vulgar books, sold obscene literature and indulge in dew baths, air baths, etc?"

"I would think it was none of my business."

"You say Mabel Dutton has a reputation for lying?"

"She lied to me."

"Localize this reputation, the territory?"

"Mill Village."

It finally simmered down to the fact that it was only in his own opinion that she was a little short on veracity.

"Did you ever hear your wife say that Nell, meaning Mrs. Shaw, was so taken up with that tomfoolery, that she couldn't write?"

"I did not."

"Do you know that your wife wrote that to Mrs. Dutton?"

"No."

Mr. Kittredge at this point submitted a letter which witness recognized as his wife's handwriting.

"Did you ever say to anybody that you never saw anybody act so like a damn fool as did Mrs. Shaw?"

"No, sir; I never said such a thing."

Elizabeth A. George

Elizabeth A. George of Worcester was the next witness.

Witness said she had lived with Mrs. Shaw three years; left her about five or six years ago. Had seen Mrs. Shaw since then, on an average of three or four times a year.

Witness said she had not observed any change in Mrs. Shaw's condition. Never heard Mrs. Shaw speak a disrespectful word of her husband or her son. She was very kind to her son.

Witness never heard about any of the visions talked about; never saw her leave food on the table for the dead, and never saw an altar in her house.

"Did you ever see Mrs. Shaw telling fortunes from tea-spoons?"

"I have."

"Was she serious about it?"

"No, she did it in a spirit of levity."

"Do you know Mabel Dutton?"

"I do. She came to Worcester to see us. Mr. Dutton was with her."

"What did she say about these proceedings?"

"She asked us if we knew that Mrs. Shaw was converting all her property into cash to give to the Mazdaznans. We told her we had not heard about it. She said she had consulted with Capt. Hitchcock relative to the matter and she said he had summoned her to his office and that he would hold back certain money, or something like that, until she had consulted a lawyer."

"Did you ever hear Mrs. Dutton say she expected to live with Mrs. Shaw?"

"I did."

"Do you know anything about Mrs. Dutton's reputation for truth and veracity?"

"I have heard it was not very good. I heard that from members of the family, mostly, including my husband."

Witness said she had never heard anything derogatory about Mabel Dutton's husband, as to his truth and veracity.

"Has your husband seen Mrs. Shaw lately?"

"I saw her in the court room in Lowell."

"Did you hear him say if Mrs. Shaw would give him $2000 he would testify for her and say anything she wanted him to say?"

"He said nothing of the kind. He said he was going to give both sides of the story."

Frank D. George

Frank D. George, husband of proceeding witness, testified. He has charge of a hospital in Worcester.

He said he had seen Mrs. Shaw several times during the last seven or eight years.

"Have you noticed any change in her mental condition?"

"No change; that I could see."

"Did you visit her when she was at the American house?"

"Don't know that I did."

"Do you know Mabel Dutton?"

"I do. She and her husband came to our house in Worcester some months ago."

"What did Mabel Dutton say about Mrs. Shaw?"

"She said Mrs. Shaw was converting all her property into money, and that she, Mrs. Dutton, had spoken with Capt. Hitchcock."

"She said if we won it would mean $2500 apiece for us."

"She said it would not cost anything, except for the serving of the writ, unless we won the case."

"Have you heard Mrs. Shaw say anything about dew baths, visions, air baths or anything of that kind?"

"No, never."

"Do you know if Mrs. Dutton has a reputation for truth?"

"She has."

Mr. Kittredge then took witness in

ISAAC E. GRAVES

Nominated for Senator By Democrats of Seventh District

The seventh democratic senatorial convention was held in the ward six democratic club room in West Lynn yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and the convention placed in nomination for senator Isaac E. Graves of Saugus, and elected Edward Gallagher of Lowell as a member of the state central committee.

The convention was called to order by Edward Gallagher of Lowell, chairman of the district committee, who read the call.

Hon. William A. Kelley of Lynn was chosen temporary chairman, and James Coleman of the same city was chosen temporary secretary. A committee on credentials, consisting of Edward Gallagher of Lowell and Hugh McKinney, of Reading, was chosen, and they reported that the convention was entitled to 45 delegates, and of that number there were 27 present. The temporary organization was made permanent.

William J. McCluskey, Esq., of Lowell, in a very strong argument, nominated Isaac E. Graves, of Saugus, for senator and moved that the secretary cast one ballot for him. The motion prevailed, and Mr. Graves was declared the nominee.

William J. McCluskey of Lowell, ley.

nominated Edward Gallagher of Lowell, for a member of the state central committee, and he was elected.

At the close of the convention, the nominee for senator made a strong speech and said that he would leave no stone unturned to make this a great democratic year. "I know that the district was made for the purpose of electing a republican, but they did not count upon a democrat that has fought the battle for forty years. I have for the past four years been elected a member of the selectmen of the town of Saugus, and this town is republican, about 5 to 1. I will endeavor for the next few weeks to give my entire time to the interest of this campaign."

DETROIT, Mich.,

6 O'CLOCK SPROULE HISSED

Because of References to Bryan at A. F. of L. Convention

The third day's session of the convention of the Massachusetts state branch of the American Federation of Labor was held at Faneuil hall today and it proved to be the hottest session since the opening of the convention.

The morning session was devoted to the submission and discussion of the report of the "committee of 18" appointed at the protest meeting held at Faneuil hall in Boston in June.

The report was presented in two parts, the first in substance being in support of Samuel Gompers for the presidency and the waging of warfare against those opposed to unionism, especially William H. Taft for president of the United States, Eben S. Draper for governor of Massachusetts, Louis Frothingham for lieutenant governor and the candidates for elector at large from this state.

In the report of the committee the names of the candidates opposed to labor were not mentioned, but an amendment to the acceptance of the report to the effect that the names be inserted was passed.

There was a great deal of excitement at the session and the delegates as well as the presiding officers did not handle each other with kid gloves.

President Sproule of the Car Men's union was warmly greeted for insinuating that William Jennings Bryan said that workmen were beggars, and he was followed by a delegate who made the statement that if he (the latter delegate) was hissed down the man's throat.

The "committee of 18" which grew out of the protest meeting held at Faneuil hall in Boston last June submitted a report at the opening of the convention.

The report quoted the resolution adopted at the June meeting of representatives of unions of the state at Faneuil hall, the meeting having been held to protest against the defeat of the peaceful persuasion bill which urged all unions to take steps to support President Gompers.

The committee submitted a summary of the protest meeting and subsequent action taken by the "committee of 18" in conjunction with the executive committee and legislative committee of the Massachusetts state board of the American Federation of Labor.

The committee suggests that if any political expression is to be accepted as the sentiment of organized labor it should come as the act of a majority of any meeting, conference or convention qualified to act upon the subject.

For years the national conventions of the A. F. of L. have declared the political policy of organized labor to be as follows: "To secure pledges in favor of our principle in political platforms and from candidates representing them; and to elect our friends and defeat our enemies without regard to party allegiance or doctrine." Their report and recommendations are, therefore, of the votes of the majority of our federation which gave them their instructions.

We recommend—that mass meetings be at once called by central order, such other steps taken as will best serve to arouse the voters of the commonwealth to a realization of the importance of the pending election.

The committee issued a letter to all unions urging that President Samuel Gompers be supported.

Mr. E. Gerry Brown made a motion that the matter be discussed by the convention.

Frank H. McCarthy, chairman of the committee on resolutions, stated that he hoped that the matter would pass through the regular channels and be referred to the proper committee. He said that it was too important to act upon in a "snap" manner at this time. He felt that no "snap" or spasmodic action should be taken on the subject in question, but that it should be gone through by the committee where the matter would meet with calm discussion.

Delegate McCarthy stated that if the matter passed through the committee on resolutions it could be presented to the public in a better manner. "For the interest of regularity and preserving your own rules let it pass through the regular channels. If you do not, what you will do today you will reverse tomorrow. I now ask you again that you refer the matter to the committee on resolutions."

Then followed a warm discussion pro and con during the course of remarks by the delegates who addressed the convention words ran high at times.

It was finally voted that the resolution offered by the "committee of 18" be taken up by the convention instead of being referred to the committee on resolutions.

Then followed a long discussion of the happenings at the meeting held at Faneuil hall by different delegates. Several delegates voiced their opinion that the committee of 18 should vote the name of any one candidate for the presidency.

E. Gerry Brown, speaking on a question of privilege, readily arraigned several delegates who he claimed had made misstatements relative to his standing in regard to politics and trade-unionism.

Vociferous applause followed Mr. Brown's remarks.

William F. Sproule, president of the local branch of the street Railway Men's union, was warmly greeted when, in speaking on the question of candidates for the presidency, he referred to William Jennings Bryan as having said that "working men are beggars."

Following Mr. Sproule's remarks

there were cries of "Did you hear him say so?"

Patrick Mahoney, Cigar Makers' union, No. 97 of Boston, gave a fiery speech on politics.

John E. Potts, Carpenters' union, No. 23 of Boston, scored the delegates for hissing Mr. Sproule and scored delegates who did not carry out the policies of the Federation of Labor.

"If they did here as they do in Great Britain we could have 60 representatives in the houses of representatives," said the speaker.

He then referred to the money expended by the democratic and republican candidates for governor of Massachusetts at the election last year and said that $75,000 was used for purchasing votes.

Delegate Kerwin of the Cigar Makers' union of Westfield spoke of the difference of condition in Great Britain and the United States.

Delegate Nolan of the typographical union said that there was a final principle included in the report of the committee to be considered was whether or not the Massachusetts state branch of the A. F. of L. is going to stand behind Samuel Gompers, the national president. He urged the support of Mr. Gompers who is against the use of force.

E. Gerry Brown, of Brockton, in a fiery speech, said "Socialism is no longer a monopoly of the laboring vote."

On motion of Delegate Joseph Convery of Lowell, the question was put—the question being the adoption of the report of the committee of 18 as read.

The report was accepted by a vote of 91 to 18.

Several delegates placed their names on record as against the adoption of the report.

Delegate Mahoney, one of the members of the "committee of 18" moved that the committee be discharged. The motion brought up a heated discussion.

Promptly at twelve o'clock, noon, E. Gerry Brown, said: "The time of adjournment has arrived and I make a motion to adjourn."

"Your watch is not running this convention," hotly answered the presiding officer.

The question of adjourning was brought up and the vote resulted in a negative and he announced that the convention would continue.

B. J. Keaveney of Lawrence stated that the committee on rules stated that the convention would keep in order between the hours of 9 and 12 and 2 and 5 o'clock and that in order to change that it is necessary that a two-thirds vote be given.

At this point one of the vice-presidents was called to the chair and in commenting upon the actions of one of the members, said: "Our organizations sent us here to act but not as babies and clowns in a circus."

Committee Report

At this point the extended report of the "committee of 18" was read, it being as follows:

To the Wage Earners of Massachusetts:

Your attention is called to the proceedings at the meeting held at Faneuil hall by different delegates. Several delegates voiced their opinion that the committee of 18 should vote the name of any one candidate for the presidency.

ballots for men and principles that will best subserve their interests.

The workers are victims of labor injunctions, such as are never levied against other citizens, which obtained under a false promise are used to dishearten and defeat men seeking to better their moral and industrial conditions.

Such injunctions recognize a right of property in men, enroach upon the freedom of speech and the press; force men to work when they desire to quit; refuse to workmen their ordinary privileges as citizens and render them liable to punishment for innocent acts at the whim discretion of a single judge, or when charged with misdemeanor, deny them trial by jury and the reasonable safeguards that protect the rights of a common criminal.

In spite of protests one of the great parties has nominated for the presidency an ex-justice, noted for the flagrant of the injunctions he issued against labor, who sentenced to jail innocent men for the crime of working in a factory, and for election of a large man who voted the eight-hour and overtime bills.

We urge every union man and every citizen to consider carefully the rights and interests and welfare of his fellow workmen and the future of his children and his country before he votes to endorse labor injunction and elevate his enemies to the offices.

A Circular Letter.

Addressed to organized labor of Massachusetts was appended to the report of the "committee of 18" the letter in detail naming the friends and enemies of organized labor.

Lively Discussion

After the reading of the report of the committee there was a great deal of discussion over the disposition of the matter and after a number of speeches had been made by the delegates, Dennis D. Driscoll, secretary and treasurer of the state branch of the A. F. of L. was recognized and in an animated speech told what he had done for unionism, how he had gone to the front to carry out the declarations of the laboring people, while the union men who had voted to do certain things were afraid to come to the front and expose themselves.

He then went on to explain how in the interest of labor, he with other workers in the interest of labor called at the governor's office at the state house; how Cohen was fatally wounded and how he was shot in the head and was devoid of speech and sight for a considerable length of time; how the shooting had caused worryment in his home, and how he is still suffering from the effects of wounds received while endeavoring to secure justice for the workmen.

He also referred to the men who were delegates and representatives of labor who made statements but who were afraid to back them up. His steps, he said, were directed up to the time he was shot, and in conclusion made the following statement: "Money can buy up and purchase anything."

After further discussion it was voted to accept the entire report of the "committee of 18" and turn it over to the legislative committee of the state branch.

Recess was taken at 1:15 o'clock.

Tonight's Parade

Tonight there will be a rally and parade under the auspices of the Massachusetts state branch American Federation of Labor. The parade formation will take place from in front of the headquarters of the delegates, the Merrimack house at 7:30 o'clock. All members of the Lowell Trade and Labor unions and all persons interested to participate. The laborer are invited to march through Merrimack to Central, Gorton, Appleton to Central and Merrimack to Associate Hall. Mr. Joseph Convery of Lowell will call the meeting to order and the presiding officer will be Philip H. Sweet, of Boston, president of the Massachusetts branch A. F. of L. Addresses will be made by John Golden, of Fall River, president of the United Textile Workers of America, Frank McCarthy, general organizer of the A. F. of L., Dennis D. Driscoll, of Boston, secretary-treasurer of the Massachusetts A. F. of L. and William E. Sproule, president of the Lowell street railway employees' union.

Yesterday Afternoon's Session

During the course of the convention yesterday a resolution was adopted which stated that "Prohibition does not prohibit; it is a farce; it breeds 'dives' and illegitimate 'joints' demoralizing and immoral; government by commission is a failure towards autocracy instead of democracy, and an effort to stifle the people."

The sentiment that prohibition does not prohibit, but is a farce, was brought out in a general discussion and explanation following the presentation of the following resolution:

"Whereas, An organized effort is being made throughout the country to bring about absolute prohibition of the manufacture and sale of all malt and spirituous liquors and

"Whereas, The success of such a movement would cause hundreds of thousands of our fellow trade unionists to be thrown out of employment thus adding to the poverty and misery now prevailing among working people.

"Whereas, We believe in the American principle of the broadest personal liberty for the individual, insofar as the exercise of the liberty is in keeping with law and order and good government, and

"Whereas, Statistics compiled by our government show that prohibition breeds 'dives' and 'joints' where an illegitimate traffic in liquor is carried on in violation of law, resulting not only in the government being deprived of any revenue to which it is justly entitled, but in addition thereto creating a demoralizing effect and contempt for all laws, and

"Whereas, We believe in temperance not only in the use of liquor, but temperance in all things, including the adoption of measures under the name of reform;

Resolved, That the Massachusetts state branch, A. F. of L. does hereby declare itself opposed to prohibition and opposed to the drastic measures proposed by the advocates thereof.

"But in so declaring our opposition to the doctrine of prohibition we wish it clearly understood that we favor the supervision and control by our public officials of saloons and all places where liquor is sold and dispensed; and

"Resolved, That in the adoption of these resolutions we demand complete recognition of the just demands of labor working at the different crafts and professions in these industries as expressed through their various organizations affiliated with the A. F. of L."

The resolution was reported upon and approved by the committee on resolutions and the approval by the convention was a unanimous one after the discussion and explanations.

That the entire subject be fully discussed, that the committee state its reasons for recommending the adoption of the resolution, what it meant, why it was advisable, and that every point and fact be fully and clearly explained and understood so that no one could say that the convention went on record in favor of the liquor traffic itself, was the suggestion and request of various delegates.

"It is a moral call," said Chairman McCarthy of the committee. "The statement in the resolution is in accordance with fact."

"It is a fact that prohibition does not prohibit. If it did that would be another proposition. The liquor traffic is an existing condition, has been almost from the time of man and will probably always remain so."

"As prohibition does not prohibit, the laws should regulate and control and determine in what manner, shape and form liquor should be dispensed."

"We believe it would be vastly better for all sections to adopt stringent regulations which can be enforced than aimlessly and blindly run flows against laws under which liquor is sold and consumed."

The committee approved the resolution from moral, financial and industrial standpoints. It believes the application of the principles named in the resolution will be the best for all people."

Resolved, That the Massachusetts state branch, A. F. of L. does hereby declare its unanimous opposition to the so-called government by commission, which is now being introduced by a number of citizens for the stifling of a popular form of government by the people in the interests of the few to the detriment of the masses.

"We believe every city and town should be granted the initiative and referendum and right of recall in order that they may enjoy the fullest measure of self-government."

The above was the sum of condemnation of the commission and the call for greater privileges by the masses as finally adopted by the convention after considerable debate.

Henry Sterling of Boston Typographical union for years chairman of the state legislative committee on direct legislation and initiative and referendum, started the discussion by declaring that the representatives of the organized government should rightfully oppose government by commission and should strenuously urge and make renewed efforts for the right of initiative and referendum and of recall. Those issues were a part of the program of the A. F. of L., and had been advocated for years.

The way to purify a city government is not to let the management further from the influence and control of the people. We find that what the so-called better people who are advocating government by commissions are trying to get is government further and further away from the people. They feel that in getting it away from the common herd the government would be purer and better.

"But you will find that these so-called self-styled better men try to begin and reform a city government by cutting down the wages of the poorest paid workmen and by discharging from employment as many as they possibly can of the poorly paid laborers and workmen."

"But they do not do a thing to get rid of rotten franchises or lessen the heavy debts of a city that are burdening the people."

"For once I am not on the floor to kick," declared E. Gerry Brown as he was recognized on the measure. "I am going to express thanks for the right to breathe. I am opposed to government by commission and all that is in it, and I shall make a clear declaration of our opposition."

Delegate Sproule of the Lowell street carmen's union declared the commission idea is solely an effort to put into the hands of a few the control of all. It was a step toward autocracy instead of a better democracy. He recalled the doings of certain commissions in Lowell and declared that they by their actions had killed the commission idea in Lowell and vicinity.

In this connection the convention also approved a resolution that central labor unions and affiliated unions should establish bureaus of information as to registration and naturalization in their cities, and thus aid every member not a citizen to become citizens and voters as soon as eligible.

The convention declared that the legislature should pass a law that the electrical railway companies of the state be compelled to provide a seat in the vestibule of each car for the use of the motorman when on duty. Such a step would be in the interests of humanity, it was declared and statistics of the breaking down of motormen were presented.

Holyoke and Worcester were the cities nominated for next year's convention. Mayor Avery of Holyoke sent a communication endorsing the request of the Holyoke C. L. U.

GOING FOR POLE BOMB WAS USED

Dr. Cook Says He Expects to More Trouble in Connection With Strike in New York

Reach Coveted Point

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The first message from Dr. Fred Cook, the ill-fated Arctic explorer since he started for his dash to the pole from a point north of Etah, February last, has been received in this city. It was brought here by Rudolph Franke, who accompanied Dr. Cook on the early stage of his journey and who received it from the explorer by messengers whom he sent back to the winter base after he was well on his way to the Farthest North.

The message was written on March 17 last about three weeks after Cook had started on the last stage of his journey. It was dated, "Polar sea, north of Cape Hubbard."

Dr. Cook wrote:

"I am making a straight course for the Pole. The boys are doing well and I have plenty of dogs. I hope to succeed. At any rate I shall make a desperate effort. While I expect to get back by the end of May I wish you to be ready to go to Acapulco, the island off North Star which the whalers steamers come before the first of June and if I am not back to go home with the whalers. I think, however, we will be back."

Dr. Cook did not reach the base before Frank started for home and no work had been received from him. Members of the Peary club and the explorers have been considering for some time the advisability of sending an expedition in search of Dr. Cook. He was the only white man in his expedition. He had a large suite of Esquimaux and plenty of dogs.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The death-dealing bomb made its first appearance today in the struggle between the New York Taxi-Cab Co. and its striking chauffeurs. While no one was injured and no serious damage was done still the controversy which from the first has been marked with violent disorders has by this act reached a stage where it is likely that the sternest repressive measures will be required. Both the company and the strikers repudiate the outrage, the company declaring that a deliberate attempt was made by the strikers to destroy the property of their former employers and the strikers maintaining that the deadly missile was hurled in an attempt to turn public sympathy against them or by some misguided sympathizers. The bomb was thrown early today into the big enclosure in Eighth avenue between 56th and 57th streets where 250 taxi-cabs belonging to the New York Taxi-Cab Co. were stored for the night. The explosion shook buildings for blocks and hundreds of persons in the neighborhood were thrown into excitement. Police details from many stations were rushed to the scene and for a time all their efforts were taxed to the limit in controlling the great crowd. The explosion doing small damage to the taxi-cabs stored in the big enclosure tore a great hole in the ground and dropped a number of special policemen and strike-breakers who were in the vicinity. One of the special policemen declares that he saw the bomb thrown over a high fence around the enclosure. It struck near a big tank of gasoline but fortunately the tank was not injured and no fire followed the explosion.

Some of the strike leaders expressed a belief that it was not a bomb at all but an explosion of gasoline due to the inexperience of some of the men who have taken the places of strikers.

HONORS EVEN

McKINNON AND CONNOLLY BOXED A DRAW

DOVER, N. H., Oct. 14.—Bill McKinnon of Boston and Bartley Connolly of Portland boxed 10 rounds to a draw before 300 fans at Lowell's theatre last night. Both men were in prime condition, McKinnon showing up in better form than on his first appearance here several months ago.

The men did most of their fighting at close quarters and kept Referee Tom Sawyer of Rockland, Me., busy paring them. McKinnon introduced a rapid series of uppercuts on the jaw with his right during the clinches, alternating with lefts on the short ribs. The chief effect of these fancy touches was to bring smiles to Connolly's features.

Connolly's efforts were largely exerted to keeping his opponent off at fighting distance. McKinnon's speed was a feature all the way. Connolly forced the fighting in the fourth and fifth rounds and landed heavily with his right occasionally. During these onslaughts McKinnon backed cleverly. In the sixth and seventh rounds they again fought at close range, neither securing an advantage. In the eighth McKinnon forced Connolly to the ropes and put him on the defence, but Connolly never weakened. In the two last rounds, which the crowd seemed to regard rather light for a windup, the honors were even.

The preliminary was a six-round draw between Tom Webber of Portland and Young Nadeau of Somersworth.

BANKER MOORE

WILL GO BEFORE A JURY TODAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Charles W. Morse, organizer of the American Ice Co. and the Consolidated S. S. Co. and who until the panic of a year ago controlled a number of banks in this city, will face a jury in the criminal branch of the U. S. circuit court today. With Alfred Curtis, former president of the National Bank of North America, Morse was indicted by the federal grand jury last March.

Violation of the national banking laws and conspiracy are alleged in the indictments.

WRESTLING BOUT

ROGERS AND WESTERGARD MEET NEXT MONDAY

After careful consideration, the board of police has granted a license for a wrestling match between Yankee Rogers and Jesse R. Westergard, the bout to be held in Associate hall Monday night of next week.

In granting this license, the board believes that the turbulent scenes enacted at the last match will not be repeated. While Rogers and Westergard are undoubtedly full of determination to win, they are strange to each other and to Lowell, and the hysterical stunts of the Conkle-Yodng Protos match will not again be in evidence.

The impression which has perhaps been created by a newspaper story that the board of police is antagonistic to the Greek people of Lowell does the board an injustice. The board takes the position that all wrestling matches shall be conducted in an orderly manner, but does not attempt to say from what nationality any contestant shall be selected. All the board asks is clean sport.

Turkey Also Asks Cash Compensation From Bulgaria

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—Neither Austria-Hungary or Turkey has yet given its consent in the proposed agreement to settle the existing situation in the Near East. Austria-Hungary declines to participate unless it is agreed that the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina be not discussed and accepted and legalized by the powers without debate.

Turkey desires a free hand in Macedonia as well as cash compensation from Bulgaria for the Oriental railroad in eastern Rumelia and some other outstanding claims. All the powers are in favor of a fixed program and a majority of them are inclined to omit from the discussions the question of the passage of the Dardanelles and the Cretan proclamation for a union with Greece.

THE HOLY NAME

Big Meeting in Sacred Heart Parish

The Sacred Heart Holy Name society held a smoke talk in the school hall on Andrews street last evening and it proved to be one of the best social affairs ever held by the organization. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with the national colors and the society occupied a conspicuous position in the front of the hall. A picture of the Sacred Heart was in position in the center of the decoration. Seated on the platform were the clergy of the church, President Ward and the reception committee.

Prof. Hugh J. Molloy of the Normal school, who will be marshal of the Lowell division in the Boston parade on Nov. 1, was the principal speaker of the evening. When he was presented every seat in the spacious hall was occupied and he received a great ovation.

Mr. Molloy took as his subject, "Daniel O'Connell, the noted Irish statesman and patriot." He also spoke on the formation of the parade for Nov. 1.

At the close of his address Mr. Molloy was extended a rising vote of thanks by the members of the society. The musical program was then presented. Mr. Martin Maguire, the well-known and popular tenor, sang a solo. He was forced to respond to an encore. Mr. George Carpenter, sang a solo; Mr. Walter O'Connell, gave a piano selection; Mr. Curry, favored the assemblage with a solo; Mr. Eugene O'Connell, gave a recitation; Mr. Tyson, delivered "The American War," in an able manner. The Glendale quartet composed of Messrs. Haguire, Golden, Curry and Moore, all members of the society, was then introduced by Chairman Ward. Then in a capable manner, the quartet rendered several popular selections. Remarks were made by Rev. John O'Brien, O. M. I., spiritual director; James J. Ward, president, and O'Connell Farrell, who has charge of drilling the society. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge, who, George and Farrell.

On next Thursday night the society will meet in the hall for practice in drilling, and a large attendance is expected.

It is thought that possibly an open air meeting will be held later in the day at which formal action on the matter may be taken.

THE TICKET NAMED

Rhode Island Republicans Named Pothier for Governor

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 14.—With every indication of a generally harmonious gathering, the state ticket having been previously decided upon to the satisfaction, it was believed, of all, and with no questions likely to arouse acrimonious discussion, the republican state convention of Rhode Island today held its state convention of the party in this city. One small dispute of interest in which did not extend beyond the delegation immediately affecting the delegation through to the convention through the inability of the executive committee of the state central committee to adjust a matter of credentials in the East Providence delegation and as the names of one side had been placed on the temporary roll of the convention no fight was anticipated.

The ticket decided upon included Aram J. Pothier of Woonsocket for governor, Arthur D. Dennis of Providence for the second place and the rest on the present ticket were renominated.

The preparation of a platform had been placed in the hands of a committee yesterday and had progressed considerably up to a late hour last night so that it was expected to be ready at the appointed time in the proceedings of the day.

With the perfection of the convention organization under a temporary chairman it had been arranged that Charles L. Robinson of Newport should assume the presiding officer's chair.

At ten o'clock, the hour for starting, the convention found delegates from all parts of the states in the corridors and connecting ante-rooms of the hall. The committee was not on hand and it was thought the convention would be late in forming. The meeting place was artistically decorated with red, white and blue bunting and over the front gallery hung a portrait of Taft and Sherman. A band stationed at the foot of the platform played several national anthems as the delegates began to congregate in the hall. Every one seemed to be talking.

Shortly before 11 o'clock Col. C. L. Robinson of Newport took the speaker's chair and rapped the convention to order. As soon as the seating of the delegates was over Judge Nathan Wright of Providence began the roll call.

The contest over the seating of the delegation from East Providence, which was but only half expected, did not materialize. The East Providence contingent, abiding by the decision made last evening by the executive committee of the republican state central committee.

Following the presentation of the credentials of the delegates, the temporary organization was made permanent. Chairman Robinson addressed the convention briefly.

Following the election of the state central committee, two changes being made in the former make-up of the committee.

After the election the platform committee left the hall and following a five minute recess they re-entered with the platform which was read by D. J. White of this city.

The reading of the platform was punctuated by frequent outbursts of applause and when it was finished three rousing cheers were given by the delegates who arose to their feet as a unit.

Joseph Fletcher of Bristol, H. M. Brown of Providence, Robert W. Goss of Newport and Edward Arnold of Coventry, were chosen presidential electors.

At this point State Senator John P. Sanborn of Newport in a few well chosen remarks, nominated A. J. Pothier for gubernatorialship. Senator Sanborn declared him the choice of the republican party. The nomination was by acclamation.

The following ticket was nominated: Lieutenant governor—Arthur Dennis, Providence.

Secretary of state—Charles Bennett of Providence.

For attorney general—W. B. Greenough, Providence.

For general treasurer—Walter Reed of Gloucester.

The state was elected by acclamation.

Annual Meeting of Company Was Held in Lawrence Today

LAWRENCE, Oct. 14.—Although the stockholders of the Boston & Maine at their annual meeting in this city today were called upon to act upon a number of important matters affecting the general interest of the company, attention was largely attracted to the selection of the men who will have charge of the company's affairs during the coming year.

That the control of the road through the possession of large blocks of the common stock, which alone has a voting power, was practically in the hands of the New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R. Co., notwithstanding nearly two years of agitation and some adverse legislation, was generally admitted before the meeting today, but whether the New Haven interests will demand important changes in the directorate was a matter which was not made public until some time after the meeting began.

As usual all the stockholders had the privilege of reaching the city by the railroad without paying a fare, upon the presentation of their stock certificates, and here nearly all sought the city hall where the annual sessions of the Boston & Maine have been held for many years.

The call for the meeting stated that the stockholders would be asked to approve the report of the directors made public some time ago; to elect a board of officers for the coming year, to rescind a vote passed in 1903 authorizing the issuance of $500,000 of bonds, to take up the floating indebtedness and to authorize $12,000,000 to be issued not only for such indebtedness, but for needed improvements.

It was generally believed that action on the first and third articles would prove perfunctory, but that there might be an interesting contest for directors with strong opposition from certain stockholders who have bitterly sought the control of the New Haven in the legislatures and in the courts.

Last year's meeting proved abortive through the action of the state legislature in preventing the voting of 100,000 shares of common stock held by the New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R. Co., thereby preventing a quorum being present. Since that meeting the possession of the big block of stock held, in and out of the legislature has passed from the New Haven road into the hands of John L. Billard of Meriden, Conn., a wealthy retired business man, said to be favorable to the interests of the New Haven company so that the stock has since been regarded as practically, although not technically, in the control of the New Haven road.

After the minutes had been read it was voted to dispense with the reading of the annual report.

The first new business was the passage of a vote that the number of directors should be increased to sixteen, the present number being eleven. The list of directors prepared by the executive committee was voted on today and was then announced.

The list includes the following members of the old board: President Tuttle, Brookline; Samuel Lawrence, Medford; Alvah Sulloway, Franklin, N. H.; Joseph White, Brookline; W. Whiting, Hallowell; Amos Williams, Brookline and Richard Olney, Boston.

The new names presented are Edward Ricker, South Poland, Me.; Fred Richards, Portland; J. M. Prendergast, Boston; Edwin Green, Wayland; F. C. Dunham, Concord, Mass.; F. T. Brown, North Andover; Charles Lindsey, Meriden, Conn.; Samuel Hemingway, New Haven and John Billard, Meriden, Conn.

Of the old board Walter Hunnewell of Wellesley, H. P. Dimock of New York; Alexander Cochrane of Boston and T. P. Beal of Boston are dropped and Samuel Aldrich of Marlboro died during the past year.

The new members voted on are engaged as follows:

Mr. Billard is a retired business man. Mr. Hemingway is president of the Second National bank of New Haven. Mr. Lindsey is secretary of the Bradley & Hubbard Mfg. Co. of Meriden, Conn.

Mr. Brown is an attorney. Mr. Dumaine is treasurer of the Ameskeag mills of Manchester. Mr. Greene is treasurer of the Pacific mills at Lawrence.

The undersecretary is a director of the Boston Elevated Co.

Mr. Richards is president of the Union Life Ins. Co. of Portland. Mr. Ricker is president of the Hiram Ricker Sons Co. of Poland Springs and a director of the Maine Central R. R.

The ticket as nominated received the vote of 228,495 shares.

The proposition to issue $12,000,000 in new bonds also was passed without a dissenting vote although 228,285 shares were represented in favor of it.

On the question of authorizing the sale of freight terminals in Lawrence favorable action was taken, 228,431 shares being voted in favor and none against the measure. Following the transaction of this business the meeting was adjourned.

Speaking of the Connecticut directors elected today, Mr. Billard said that they were placed on the board at his suggestion as he believed that a holder of 10,000 shares of stock such as he has should have representation in the governing body.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Was Greeted by Great Crowds in Nebraska Yesterday

WAHOO, Neb., Oct. 14.—William J. Bryan yesterday campaigned in his own state and last night in this place completed the first of his three days' tour of Nebraska. Big crowds greeted him at every point and when his day's work was over he had delivered 21 speeches, varying in length from five minutes to an hour. His arguments were confined mostly to the stands of Mr. Taft and Governor Hughes, who recently visited Nebraska. The audience was mostly farmers and the democratic candidate frequently moved them to loud applause. A car load of speakers was brought along out of Omaha and at each place visited, one was dropped off to complete the work of expounding democratic doctrine. Mr. Bryan accused Mr. Taft of not making the speech in Nebraska that he had been making in other parts of the country.

"He did not discuss the guarantee of bank deposits," he said, "doubtless because he was informed that the people of Nebraska are in favor of the guarantee of deposits. His appeal was to the fact that the farmers have had good crops and fair prices. But did the republican party give you good crops? All who think that the republican party is responsible for good crops should thank the republican party. Those who believe as we do that the good crops are due to the fertility of the soil, to reasonable rains and to the warm sunshine should thank the Almighty."

He asked his audience if the republicans had given them high prices. "Are not agricultural prices," he inquired, "as high in Canada as they are here? Are not agricultural prices, as high in England as they are here? Have not values increased in Europe as well as in America? You must find some cause that is as extended as the results which you are trying to account for, and the influence of the republican party is confined to the United States. The farmers should not be deceived by the argument now addressed to them, for a similar argument was addressed to laboring men eight years ago."

He then spoke of the empty dinner pail. It was void, he said, because the bottom had dropped out of it and now the farmers were told that the republicans are to give them a full basket. The republican party, he declared, had no policy that promised benefit to the farmer, "but he is the victim of all the abuses that have grown up under a republican rule. What do they say in their platform now? Why I am almost ashamed to tell you what they say. What they say is so awfully bad that the Omaha Bee thought I said it and printed an editorial against it. Now is not that pretty hard to have a republican platform so bad that it would be mistaken for one of my speeches? The Bee thought I said it and law—law—how that Bee did lambast me. There was more truth in that editorial of the Bee than I have seen in it for the last 31 years."

Discussing reforms, the candidate said that there was not one that Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Taft stood for that he had not fought for before either of them spoke on the subject to anybody. In the opinion of Mr. Bryan, Governor Hughes was not the kind of man to give advice to people who want remedial legislation.

"Mr. Hughes," he said, "came out here to tell you that our plan was ridiculous and he laughed all over the state and all over the West, laughed so heartily at the absurdity of our plan that he could not get himself in a condition to suggest any plan himself. It may be a laughing matter for Governor Hughes, but it is not a laughing matter for the people of this country. All of you who think that we do not need a remedy; but if you believe we need a remedy, you will not be satisfied with the man who proposes no remedy."

After speaking at Wahoo, Mr. Bryan returned to Fairmount. The first of his twenty-three speeches was scheduled for North Bend at 9 o'clock and the last at Hebron at 8:20 at night.

FINANCIER C. W. MORSE FACES A FEDERAL TRIAL

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The trial of Charles W. Morse and of Alfred H. Curtis, who was Morse's president of the National Bank of North America, New York, prior to the panic a year ago, on indictments for alleged violations of the national banking law and for alleged conspiracy begins before Judge Hough in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court in New York on Oct. 14. The two men were jointly indicted last March by the federal grand jury after an investigation of their operations in the National Bank of North America. There is a vast mass of evidence to be submitted and it is expected that the trial will occupy several days. Much interest centers in the case because of the scope of Morse's operations and the effort he is now making to rehabilitate himself in the financial world.

HUSBAND GETS $1400 NEAR DEATH

Wife Says He Married for Money Lives of Children Were in Danger

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—One dollar, payable in monthly installments of 25 cents, is the bequest given Andrew Heckler by his late wife, Catherine E. Heckler of Portland, Ore. Her will was filed in the Cook county probate court yesterday. The husband is referred to as an "individual."

The will was filed by Atty. B. S. Pague of Portland, who is bequeathed a cut glass water bottle. Mrs. Isabella Vance, a friend, is given the remainder of the estate.

"Thus I dispose of my personal property," says the will, "for the reason that Andrew Heckler told me he had married me for my money and after he had got all he could get he deserted me and vilified me; and I give all, except the cut glass water bottle, to Mrs. Isabella Vance, for the reason that she has been kind and considerate of and to me and is more like a daughter to me than only a friend; and, too, I know that she will see to it that I am properly and decently buried and that my grave is suitably marked."

The couple were married in San Diego, Cal. Heckler being a native of that city. His wife had inherited a fortune of many thousand dollars and real estate holdings here, in California and elsewhere. The bulk of the real estate is in this city.

School Department in Need of That Amount Returned With Deer in Their Auto Fire Broke Out in Wolfboro, N. H.

Unless the school department gets a loan very soon the school teachers will be "dry" on their salaries. The monthly pay roll of the school department is about $25,000 and there is only about $10,000 left to the credit of the department.

At the beginning of the year the department estimated its expenses for the year at $357,000 and the appropriation committee allowed it $257,000. A loan of $100,000 will be asked probably at the next meeting of the city council.

DEMOCRATIC COUNCILMEN.

Democratic councilmen should not concern themselves so much about the burning desire of some republicans to elect a different city physician. Let them pull their own chestnuts out of the fire. Don't help to displace a good man for a novice.

THE CARPET STRIKE.

The carpet strike has been declared off, but there seems to be no inclination on the part of the management to take back those who have thus surrendered unconditionally. If this is the result of blacklisting we rather think that it is an extreme and mistaken policy and one that is likely to militate against the company at some future time.

THEY'RE WORKING FOR TAFT.

Almost anyone would be a socialist if they could travel about the country, as does Debs, in a special train, with chefs, valets, secretaries and a brass band. By the way, who puts up the money for that display of regal splendor?—Jackson Citizen Press.

There is little doubt that Debs' traveling expenses are paid by the republican party the opinion of his followers to the contrary notwithstanding.

If Mr. Debs is in the employ of the republican party on his campaign tour he is not going to acquaint his followers of the fact. There is good reason to believe also that republican money is being used to secure the service of the Hearst papers in a crusade of the vilest vituperation against Mr. Bryan.

It is plain that the republican party relies in a great measure upon the socialists and the independence league to defeat Mr. Bryan in the close states. Here are two societies that are shouting for the laboring man and the victims of trust oppression, and yet they are both aiding the party that piles burdens on the workingman and that is in alliance with the oppressive trusts that have passed beyond the control of the federal government.

PUNISHMENT OF SCHOOL CHILDREN.

The method of punishing a child adopted by a Peabody school teacher that resulted in having a boy shut up in a dark closet for twenty hours including the night, is one that should never be adopted. The teacher in a moment of rush and evident excitement to correct the boy for some misdeed shoved him into a book closet and locked the door on him. That was the last she thought of the boy until on the following morning at eleven o'clock she went to the closet and found the little fellow half dead.

All during the night the child's parents of course were frantic over his absence and had the police enlisted to assist in finding him. The case was really very aggravating, and the only explanation of it is, that the young teacher was in a state of mental excitement in view of the fact that she was to be a bridemaid that evening.

This and other forms of punishment not specifically laid down by school committees should be prohibited. The method of placing pepper on the child's tongue is equally reprehensible, and this is but one of many freak means of punishment occasionally resorted to by some teachers.

SHELDON IN THE TRUSTS.

A short time ago the republicans made a great ado on the statement of President Roosevelt that Governor Haskell of Oklahoma, president of the democratic national committee had at one time been in the employ of certain trusts. As a result of President Roosevelt's charge Governor Haskell resigned in order that he might in no way embarrass Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Bryan, however, soon demonstrated that the treasurer of the republican national committee, Mr. Sheldon, was not only connected with trusts but was a stock holder and prominent member of some of the largest trusts in the country. The following are the trusts in which Mr. Sheldon is financially interested:

American Locomotive Automobile Company.
Bethlehem Steel Company.
American Locomotive Company.
Cincinnati Northern Railroad Company.
Detroit Edison Company.
Electrical Securities Corporation.
Laclede Gas Light Company.
Locomotive and Machine Company, Limited, Montreal.
Locomotive Security Company.
Metropolitan Trust Company.
Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company.
Milwaukee Light, Heat and Traction Company.
National Copper Bank.
New Jersey Terminal Dock and Improvement Company.
North American Company.
Republic Iron and Steel Company.
Rogers Locomotive Works.
St. Louis Transit Company.
Union Bag and Paper Company.
Union Electric Light and Power Company.
Union Electric Light, Heat and Power Company.
United Railways Company of St. Louis.

It is plain that the republican official does not consider it wrong to be connected with the trusts as he has not resigned and has no intention of resigning. Any such action on his part would be contrary to the alliance that exists between the republican party and the trusts for the purpose of retaining the republicans in office.

Strange that President Roosevelt should have stirred the country with his thunderbolts because Treasurer Haskell is reputed to have done legal work for a trust, while his highness failed completely to discover Sheldon's trust record. There is none so blind as those who will not see.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIGOROUS OCTOBER CAMPAIGN

Providence Tribune: Excluding the Monday before election there now remain but seventeen working campaign days, and they are evidently going to be very busy ones. Though the republicans profess almost supreme confidence, and certainly have reason to feel great confidence, their plans point to the hardest, October campaign they have made since 1892, when they were so soundly whipped. Much of the work will now be in organizing for getting the voters out, but it is also observed that all the cabinet officials and other high Washington officials of speaking ability are hurrying out upon the stump. The president, however, is understood to have decided that it is not expedient for him to show his hand conspicuously in the rest of the campaign. It is a wise decision. Whether his noisy interference hitherto has hurt Mr. Taft's chances may be open to question; but it certainly has not helped them.

DEMANDS OF CAMPAIGNING

N. Y. Evening Post: Modern campaigning is more and more coming to require the physique of a Titan and the voice of a Stentor. To speak night and day, indoors and out, in tents and from automobiles and car platforms, in wind and rain and smoke and fumes—and this with scarcely time to rest or sleep—is an ordeal which lays low all but the stoutest. Gov. Hughes is a man of slender endurance, but his voice gave out yesterday. Judge Taft is a man of great strength, and a glutton for work, yet his touring has almost broken him down. Even the athletic Roosevelt could not hold the pace in 1900. All the greater wonder is that, by comparison, that Bryan goes on his re-energizing way without a sign of fatigue or hoarseness. Long practice counts for much, in his case, no doubt, but the naturalowment is extraordinary. If Carley could have witnessed his feats of stump-oratory, he would have withdrawn his backing of Webster against the universe.

THE PRESIDENT'S SOLE AUTHORITY

Harpur's Weekly—Now, the only basis of the president's assertion that $300,000 was found in the democratic treasury, and that Haskell had tried to bribe Monrout, was a mere statement to that effect by Mr. Hearst, whom the president himself over and over again has denounced as wholly untrustworthy, has compared to a skunk, and has pronounced the virtual assassin of McKinley. Haskell seems to be a poor lot; but not a particle of evidence has been produced to support the bribery story. On the contrary, every person who might be supposed to know including Monrout himself, had denied it fully before the president made his "incidental" remark. The $300,000 yarn was too silly of course, for even words from any other source, even the Hearst papers had taken it back before the president spoke. Not that retraction was necessary. No person possessing a grain of sense ever believed for an instant that Messrs. Ryan and Belmont had kept this large sum of money to turn over to Messrs. Mack and Haskell for use in a Bryan campaign. Did the president believe it? Not for a second. He has more grains of sense than one. He knew, of course, that the story was a lie. And yet he gave it to the nation of his great authority, his great position, his great reputation as a man of probity, pledged, above all things, to fair as well as honest dealing. Now, this may be effective campaigning or may not. It may help Taft or may not. We don't know. What we do feel is that every intelligent and fair-minded person must realize that such talk is inexpressibly cheap and demagogic.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

To Bertha Schultz, a young dress-maker in Hamburg, Germany, $10,000 was bequeathed on condition that she never marry a man engaged in an intellectual occupation. She is already engaged to an accountant, and she and her fiancé are now endeavoring to persuade the law that the work is purely mechanical.

Mrs. Josephine Osborn, a prominent New York authority on women's costumes, has just returned from Paris and London, but she brings none of the widely advertised director gowns. "The sheath gown," says Mrs. Osborn, "is a myth. Nobody wears them in Paris or London, and never will wear them. And they will never come to this city. A dressmaker in Paris sent me some sheath gowns out on the streets for advertising purposes. She received her advertising, but the sheath gown died there."

Miss Josephine Casey, who has done much for the working girls of Chicago, is to come to Boston as the secretary of the Boston Woman's Trade Union league. In Chicago she came to take up the cause of the working girls because of her position in the elevated railway, where every day she saw the crowds of poor working women going to their hard labor for which they received so little, and home again to the miserable homes at night. She was moved to espouse their cause and succeeded in so well organizing the women that they could demand and secure better treatment.

Miss Addams and other prominent women assisted her in her efforts, and Boston women have asked her to repeat the work there that she did in Chicago.

Miss Josephine C. Delmonico, granddaughter of the man who made Delmonico's restaurant famous, is the owner of the two valuable restaurant properties of that name in New York.

Miss Anna C. Wilson, one of the four women delegates to the recent International Typographical union convention in Boston, is at the head of the movement to raise $1,000,000 for the endowment of the printer's home at Colorado Springs. She is a trustee of the home, having been elected over eight men who were anxious for the place. She is one of the expert machine operators in the government service at Washington and has been a member of the Typographical union for 15 years.

The body of the late Bishop Henry C. Potter of New York will be interred in the crypt of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, on Morningside Heights, New York, on October 20, the date of the 25th anniversary of Bishop Potter's ordination to the bishopric.

Mrs. Mary McGeehan, who was 106 last month, has lived on oatmeal all her life, and works about the farm at Brookagh, Donegal, Ire., with her children and grandchildren. She is the widow of a tenant farmer and her faculties are practically unimpaired.

It has become known that the author of "Agnes," the emotional drama being played with Nance O'Neill in the leading role, is Mrs. Sydney Drew, wife of Sydney Drew, the actor, and sister-in-law of John Drew. Mrs. Drew disguised her identity under the nom de plume of George Cameron.

The widow of Governor Richard Yates, war governor of Illinois, whom the people called "Dick," and the mother of the ex-governor of the same name, recently died at Jacksonville in that state. That was the birthplace of Mrs. Yates, who was 86 years old. Since the early '30s she had lived in the house built by her husband, which he modeled after Webster's home.

The Earl of Rosslyn, who last year was divorced by his second wife, who was a Miss Anna Robinson of New York, has been married in a registry office in London to Vera Bayley, the daughter of an ex-officer of lunatics.

Barn Was Badly Damaged by Fire

Shortly before 8 o'clock last night an alarm from box 38 summoned the fire department to a blaze in a barn belonging to Patrick Hunt in the rear of his residence, 35 Manchester street. Before the fire department arrived the blaze had gained a good headway. The barn with the exception of some hay, was empty. The loss will be considerable, though partly covered by insurance placed with Fred C. Church and T. C. Lee. One wagon standing near the barn was badly burned before it could be removed, not 30 feet from the barn, were saved by the vigorous efforts of the firemen. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Hunt being away when the blaze was first discovered. Mrs. Hunt was also absent from her home, being in a near-by store conducted by Mrs. Nellie L. Golden.

Said to Have Been Promised Good Job by President

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The democratic national committee, through John J. Gordon, assistant and acting chief of the press bureau at headquarters, last night made public the following statement:
"It is pointed out that on Sept. 23 last the executive council of the American Federation of Labor issued a circular calling on all organizations of labor to work for the defeat of Mr. Taft and republican congressmen seeking re-election, and Mr. Keefe authorized his signature to be attached to it. 'The source of the democratic committee's information was not divulged last night, but the information was offered that if Mr. Keefe or President Roosevelt deny the charge, another big labor leader now in New York will come forward with facts to prove that the offer was made, and Mr. Keefe accepted it, and has commenced to make good his part of the deal.'"

Tragic Death of Women at the Police Station

A case of self-destruction took place last night in the police station shortly before midnight. The victim proved to be Mary Boyle, who was booked for drunkenness by Officer Hersey at 11:24 o'clock. She answered all questions plainly when being booked and when removed to the women's wing of the station she did not appear different from any other prisoner. Fifteen minutes after being placed in her cell, Officer John T. Whitaker, on his last round for the night, before going off duty, saw by the dim electric light the woman hanging from the iron grating of her door. She had tied an old shawl about her throat and hanged herself. Officer Whitaker slammed open the door and called for help. Officer Joseph L. Lamoureux responded promptly and the two men cut the body of the woman down with their knives. For the next half hour the officers worked over the body in an attempt to revive a spark of life. Then City Physician Forster H. Smith arrived and told the men that she was dead, and probably had been when she was first discovered. She had acted

MATRIMONIAL

A wedding of much local interest took place at the immaculate Conception church in Nashua at 10:30 o'clock this morning when Miss Eleanor E. Galvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Galvin of Hudson, N. H., was united in marriage to Mr. Walter H. Hickey, Jr. D., of Brooklyn, N. Y., a cousin of the groom. A nuptial mass was celebrated, Rev. Fr. Whelan officiating, assisted by Rev. Fr. Kirwin of Brooklyn, N. Y. and Rev. Fr. Eugene Carney of St. Michael's church, this city.

Miss Frances E. Hickey, a sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, while the groom was attended by Mr. Edward Cahill, as bestman.

The bride was attired in a gown of white satin and carried chrysanthemums. Miss Hickey wore a gown of pale blue trimmed with lace.

Many local people, friends and relatives of the bride and groom, attended. Dr. Thomas F. Carroll of this city presided at the organ and rendered Lohengrin's wedding march. Mr. Donnelly and William F. Thornton rendered solos.

The ushers at the church were C. Joseph Hart, Thomas Gallagher, Philip R. O'Brien and Joseph St. Leges.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the happy couple were driven to the home of the bride in Hudson, where a wedding breakfast was served. Later quickly. She gave her age as 51 years when being booked and had given her occupation as domestic, but it has since been ascertained she was but 47 years old. Subsequently it was learned that she was the wife of Hugh Boyle and her home 327 Worthen street.

The remains were removed to the funeral parlors of C. H. Molloy & Son and there prepared for burial. Later the body was taken to her late home.

Besides her husband she is survived by four children, namely, two sons, James and John Boyle and two daughters, Margaret and Norah Boyle; also, one sister, Mrs. Samuel McCutcheon, and three brothers, James and John of Ireland and Martin of Lowell. The woman was unknown to the police at the time of her arrest and the mortification of being a prisoner worked upon her so that she in sorrow and despair, if not complete mental derangement, ended her life in the tragic manner above mentioned. She must have been temporarily insane.

MURRAY-TEAGUE

This afternoon the marriage of Mr. John J. Murray and Miss Emma M. Teague was solemnized at St. Peter's parish residence at five o'clock. The bride was Miss Sarah Teague, sister of the bride, and she was beautifully gowned and carried a bouquet. The best man was Mr. Joseph Donahue. After the ceremony the bride returned to the home of the bride, 443 Gorham street, where a reception was given to the members of the families of the contracting parties. The happy couple were recipients of a large number of wedding presents. The bride party left on the 9:30 train for parts unknown and upon their return will reside at 737 Broadway, where their future home is all furnished for their occupancy. They will be at home to their friends after December 1st.

GENEST-BENOIT

Mr. Joseph Napoleon Genest of Lowell and Miss Sara Benoit of Nashua, were married Monday at Nashua, at St. Louis-de-Gonzague church, Rev. Fr. Millette officiated. The bride was attended by her father, Mr. Napoleon Benoit of Nashua, and the bridegroom's witness was Mr. Pierre C. Gagnon of Lowell. A reception was given at the bride's home, after which Mr. and Mrs. Genest left on an extended wedding tour. They will live in Lowell.

ANOTHER BREAK

Horse Taken From Barn in Tewksbury

A short time ago The Sun made mention of horse thieves who entered barns in both Westford and Chelmsford and stole horses and making good their escape. Now news of similar depredations, come from Tewksbury and probably the same thief or thieves referred to above have been successfully at work there. It appears that the barn of Luke Hutchinson in Andover street, Tewksbury, was broken into some time during Monday night and a valuable Kentucky bred horse and a rubber tired buggy were stolen.

The horse and buggy were missed early yesterday, and the matter was at once reported by Mr. Hutchinson to the police. There was no clue as to which way the thieves went from the barn. The horse was a bay in color and was said to be a high stepper. The horses stolen from Westford and Chelmsford were good roadsters and were high priced.

A DYING WOMAN

Was Robbed of Roll of Bills

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—Ellen F. O'Rourke and Annie Mullins, alias Annie Horan, were each sentenced to one month in the house of correction by Judge Sullivan yesterday for larceny of $15 from Sarah Irwin of 15 Layton street, who was lying in a dying condition amid wretched surroundings.

Besides the sentence of one month on the same footing with the prudent and the larceny charge Ellen O'Rourke was given four months and Annie Horan three months for drunkenness.

According to the story told by the chief witness, Sarah Condon, who was visiting a family in the same house, the two women were watching by the bedside of the stricken woman.

As Sarah Condon stood in the doorway, the presence unknown, she saw the pair thrust their hands beneath the pillow of the dying woman and draw out a large roll of bills.

Just how much they secured could not be ascertained. It was considerably in excess of the amount charged.

At this point the two women turned, and seeing that they were discovered rushed for the Condon woman, and threw her down the stairs.

HENRY CLEWS

OPPOSED TO GUARANTEE OF BANK DEPOSITS

BALTIMORE, Oct. 14.—"I am most strenuously opposed to the government guarantee of bank deposits as it is a measure unsound in principle and fraught with great danger both to the government and the business of the country."

So said Henry Clews of New York in opening an address delivered last night before the Baltimore chapter of the American Institute of Banking. Continuing, he criticised adversely the suggestion relative to the guarantee of bank deposits.

"A guarantee system," he said, "would destroy the incentive for sound banking and place a premium upon unsound banking, so that the reckless and inefficient banker would be on the same footing with the prudent and

Failed to Win Walnut Hall Cup Race

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 14.—The feature of yesterday's racing was the remarkable but unsuccessful attempt of Dan Patch to lower his record of 1:55. The feature event of the program was the Walnut Hall cup race, which proved a great disappointment. Uhlan won in straight heat and Spanish Queen, the over-night favorite, was nowhere. Summaries:

ALMOST A RIOT

Mob in London Incited by British Women

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The climax of the suffragette campaign was reached last night when an enormous mob hemmed in parliament and stopped the traffic in all streets leading to Westminster. For more than three hours the crowds scuffled, good-naturedly with the police, interfered with the theatregoers, broke windows and disorganized things generally in the center of London.

The heroine of the day was Mrs. Travers Symonds, formerly secretary to James Keir Hardie, the socialist and independent member of parliament, who reached the door of the house of commons by strategy. The house was solemnly debating a bill to prohibit children from smoking cigarettes, when the woman dashed past the doorkeeper to a position in front of the speaker's chair and shouted shrilly:

"Leave off discussing children and talk about the women."

Three officials seized Mrs. Symonds and carried her out bodily. She was then led to the outer door and dismissed. As a result of her intrusion an order was issued that hereafter women should not be admitted to the building on any pretext whatever, and in the future the historic grille will not screen feminine spectators.

"Rush" Brings Out 100,000

The appeal issued by the suffragettes a few days ago for 50,000 persons to help them "rush" parliament at half past seven o'clock last evening was the most successful stroke yet. Not less than twice that number responded to the call, and nine-tenths of these were young people who came to see the fun. There were also a few hundred of the unemployed and their sympathizers.

Parliament was in a state of siege. A close triple line of police was drawn around the three sides of the square in front of the building. The yard within the gates swarmed with police and 200 guarded the terrace in the rear against assault by water, which the women twice attempted. A small fleet of police boats also patrolled the Thames approaches.

All the mounted police in London and suburbs had been mobilized at this center, and loads of hay were unstacked in the streets for the horses. The whole police force, together with cavalry, infantry and marines, numbered more than 500, was kept busy in restraining the pushing, struggling masses, especially about Trafalgar square, where the Nelson monument looked down upon the dense crowds in all directions, with buses, motor cars and cabs, mostly filled with sightseers, trying to thread their way through.

The police kept the streets adjoining the house of commons clear, elsewhere they endeavored to the best of their ability to keep the people moving.

Let Themselves Loose

The crowds cheered, sang songs and shouted, giving voice to all the sarcastic remarks characteristic of a London crowd. These were aimed in a semi-good-natured manner at the suffragettes, who, distinguished by their orange sashes, swarmed everywhere, distributing tracts.

A delegation of 13 suffragettes, which approached the police cordon and was formally refused admission to parliament, attempted a football rush, but the police chivalrously repulsed the women with the least possible roughness. Two bodies of the unemployed, however, which approached the line, were driven off with little saving grace, one across Westminster bridge and the other to St. James park. The police were pelted with vegetables and some stones in a few minor skirmishes that occurred, but nobody was hurt. Twenty-four suffragettes and 12 of the unemployed were placed under arrest. Many persons fainted in the crush; a few were trampled upon and taken to the hospitals.

Mrs. Pankhurst, Miss Christabel Pankhurst and Mrs. Lawrence were summoned to court yesterday for inciting a breach of the peace, but they coolly refused to obey the summons and agreed to surrender themselves at 6 o'clock in the evening, which they did, spending the night in the Bow street station.

CITY PHYSICIAN

Common Council Balloted Without a Choice

The presence of a well known undertaker at city hall, last evening, lobbying for one of the candidates for city physician, caused the voters to get busy and many a "quip and crank and wryman wile" was passed along the corridors.

And there was no choice. After three ballots the nine democrats, with the assistance of four republicans, passed a motion to adjourn. Councilmen Cotter and McKenzie, who are on the sick list, were absent and Councilman Fielding appeared without his mustache.

Prior to the meeting the democrats caucused and decided to vote for Dr. Fred P. Murphy. Councilman Lyons, however, broke away from the caucus agreement on two ballots and voted once for Dr. Harold B. Plunkett and for Dr. Frank O'Sullivan. Dr. Forster H. Smith, the present incumbent, received 11 votes twice and 12 votes once, 13 being necessary. The ballots were as follows:

First ballot—For Dr. Forster H. Smith: Councilmen Adams, Bergeron, Dexter, Marchand, McKidd, Mitchell, Qua, Spencer, Stevens, Thomas, Walnwright, 14. For Dr. J. D. Albert Johnson: Councilmen Baldwin, Boudreau, Cadoret, Fielding, Wilde, 5. For Dr. Fred P. Murphy: Councilmen J. A. Denahoe, D. J. Donohue, Flanagan, Foudy, Jodoin, Kearns, Mahoney, Welch, 8. For Dr. Harold B. Plunkett: Councilman Lyons, 1.

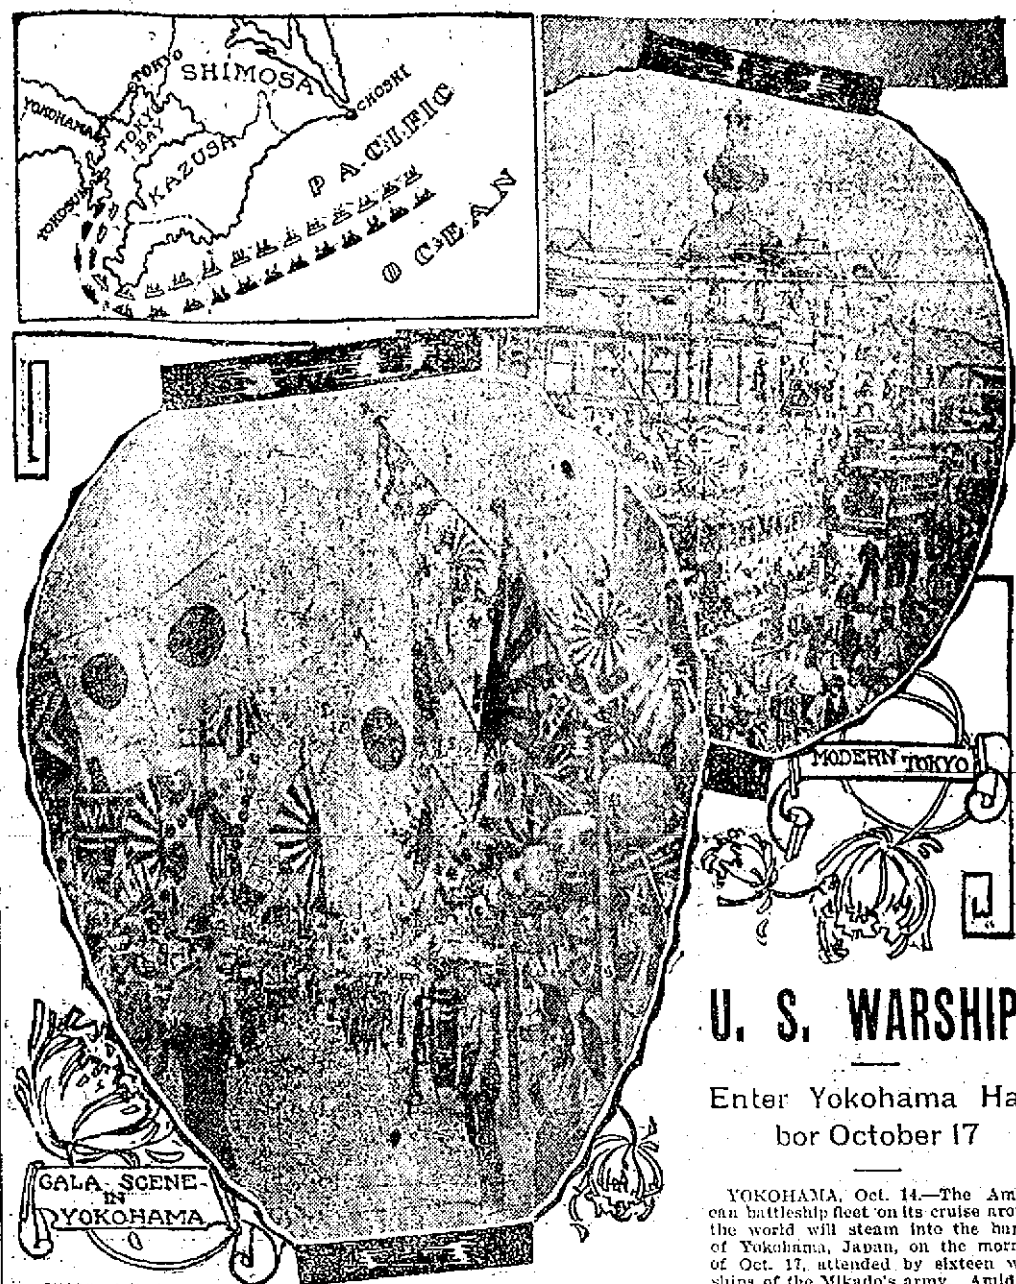

Second ballot—For Dr. Forster H. Smith: Councilmen Adams, Bergeron, Cadoret, Dexter, Fielding, Marchand, Mitchell, Qua, Spencer, Stevens, Thomas, Walnwright, 12. For Dr. Johnson: Councilmen Baldwin, Boudreau, McKidd, Wilde, 4. For Dr. Murphy, the nine democrats.

Third ballot—For Dr. Smith: Councilmen Adams, Bergeron, Boudreau, Dexter, Marchand, Mitchell, Qua, Stevens, Thomas, Walnwright, 11. For Dr. Johnson: Councilmen Baldwin, Boudreau, McKidd, Qua, Spencer, Stevens, Thomas, Walnwright, 12. For Dr. Johnson: Councilmen Baldwin, Boudreau, McKidd, Qua, Spencer, Stevens, Thomas, Walnwright, 12.

MEMBERS OF MIDDLESEX CHAPTER, S. A. R. HAD BANQUET

Old Middlesex chapter, of the Sons of the American Revolution met last night in D. L. Page's hall in Merrimack street. The members assembled about 6:45 o'clock, plates being laid for fifty. An excellent dinner was served after which the business meeting was held, in commemoration of General Burgoyne's surrender which took place during the early part of October, 1777.

President Charles H. Conant was introduced as the first speaker, Hon. Edward C. Battis of Salem, president of the state society, who read a paper on "The Surrender of Burgoyne."

Mr. Battis' address was in the nature of a historical story of the events leading up to and after the battle of Saratoga, and was received with much interest.

George W. Putnam read a very pleasing paper on "Wit and Humor of the Revolutionary Period," which was very entertaining and amusing. Mr. Putnam quoted at length from the newspapers of the time, and gave various anecdotes of the war which proved that our ancestors possessed a sense of humor.

Brigadier General Philip Hensley of this city, who has been retired after brilliant service in the army department, was one of the speakers down on the program, but he was unable to appear.

After speeches by many of the other prominent members of the order, the meeting broke up at about 10 o'clock. The other speakers were Henry A. Smith, A. G. Walsh, Henry H. Harris, Selon W. Stevens, Frank W. Hall, Rev. B. A. Willmott and Dr. M. G. Parker.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 14.

The race between Governor John A. Johnson of Minnesota and Jacob F. Jacobson, his Republican rival, took on an interesting phase when a question

40 Taken From a Burning Building

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—Police men, firemen and citizens groping about the smoke-filled rooms of the Church House for Orphans and Destitute Children on N street, South Boston, late last night rescued some forty little ones whose lives were endangered by a fire which started in the basement and quickly the entire fourth story structure filled with dense smoke.

Some 10 children, from the ages of four to sixteen years, live at the home, which is conducted by the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts.

The fire started in the basement from some cause unknown. About half the children, including the older ones, were able to make their way out safely from the building at the outset.

The younger ones, who were on the second floor, were the first to be rescued. In fact, however, the first ones to reach the fire escape were the little ones and only by one they were carried down the smoke-filled corridors and stairways.

Arnold Tells of Experience in Balloon

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—The second of the three American balloons that started in the race for the international trophy on Sunday from Schmargendorf has met disaster in the North Sea. The "Saint Louis," manned by N. H. Arnold of North Adams, Mass., and Harry J. Hewitt, was carried over land by a westerly wind, but later in the haze the aeronauts lost their bearings until suddenly Monday night they saw the guard lights of an unknown coast. This meant that they must descend or risk the danger of being driven far out of the track of rescue.

At the Old Ladies' Home, on Fletcher street, yesterday afternoon, the annual meeting of the corporation was held. Reports were read by the various officers, and plans were discussed for the coming year. An election of officers took place at the afternoon meeting. But one change in the list was made, C. H. Nelson being chosen to fill the place of trustee made vacant by the death of George R. Richardson.

The officers of the corporation are: President, Mrs. Geo. F. Richardson; Vice-presidents, Mrs. J. C. Abbott and Mrs. J. W. Shaw; Secretary, Mrs. Samuel Young; Treasurer, J. E. Gilson; Auditor, Charles C. Hedrick; Trustees, Mrs. George F. Richardson, Mrs. W. B. Goodwin, Mrs. C. W. Wilder, Mrs. H. A. Lambert, Mrs. W. F. Brazer, Jacob Rogers, George S. Motley, C. H. Hutchinson, A. G. Pollard and C. H. Nelson.

Mrs. Martha E. Mills, matron during the past year, was re-elected to the place. The board of selectmen of Billerica has decided to have the polling place for precinct 2, at the coming state and presidential election, in Union hall, North Billerica. It was the original intention of the board to have the voting done this year at the Mathew hall, but this plan was changed. The republican club room in Elm street has been used for voting at state elections for many years, but it was considered inadequate on account of its size. Union hall is not nearly as centrally located as either of the places mentioned above, but being town property it was thought by many to be the proper building in which to hold the election voting.

Two of the competitors in Monday's endurance race have not been reported and it is hoped that these escaped the changeable lower currents which affected the other competitors and succeeded at higher altitudes in reaching Russia.

A report received from Wangerloog Island in the North Sea says that a balloon passed over there, but that there were no further tidings of it. The fleet of torpedo boat destroyers is searching "the North Sea, where a thick fog prevails.

The English balloon "Banshee," so far as present estimates go, has covered the longest distance in the race, 275 miles.

AFTER MRS. HILTON

Petitioner's Attorney Kittredge Wanted Her Removed

The proceedings in the hearing that has to do with the appointment of a conservator to restrain Mrs. Helen D. Shaw from giving her property to the Mazdaznans was resumed in the old probate court in East Cambridge today. Sensations that were expected failed to materialize. It was thought that the garments worn by Mrs. Hilton, high priestess, would be displayed in the court this afternoon. These include the flowing robes, the angel wings, and the vibrators that give inspiration.

Ten witnesses were sworn for the respondent and Lawyer Jordan asked permission to recall W. H. Drew, who he said, wanted to speak about the clothing worn by Mrs. Shaw. He said that three years ago he saw Mrs. Shaw going about the house and all she had on was a union suit. He also said that Mrs. Shaw uttered only in a union suit received mail from the letter carrier.

The real sensation in the hearing on the Mazdaznan case in Cambridge was sprung at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon, when Mrs. Ellen Shaw, respondent in the case, was called to the witness stand.

The motion that Mrs. Shaw stepped upon the stand Lawyer Kittredge for the petitioners requested that the court order that Mrs. Ruth Hilton be barred from the hearing.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 14.—Local interest in the world's championship baseball contest between the Detroit American league and the Chicago National league was perceptibly on the wane when today's crowds began turning their faces toward Bennett park. Yesterday that would make the series a tie brought out a banner attendance but today the possibility of the visitors winning a final and deciding victory was too evident. With three victories standing to the credit of Chicago the other for Detroit the crowds at the ball park today while running well into the thousands were still comparatively small.

SALE OF TICKETS
CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—President Murphy of the Chicago National league baseball club last night authorized the statement that his personal check would be sent to the national commission to pay for all reserve seat tickets which were sold for the Sunday and Monday games in this city. This action followed the criticisms of the methods of distributing tickets for the world's series and the insinuations that officials or employees of the Chicago club must have been in collusion with scalpers when tickets were returned to the national commission as unsold, although the public demand had not been supplied.

Donovan and Reubach are the opposing pitchers for today and the weather prediction is showers and cooler.

The Detroit players and their managers are far from faint hearted over their series of defeats.

"No ball club whose players have a grain of sand is beaten until the last game is played," declared Manager Hugh Jennings of the Detroit Americans and to emphasize his belief that today's game would not mark the end of the series he announced that he had Mullin slated to go into the box for Detroit tomorrow.

Mr. Murphy also came out strongly in favor of the suggestion that the national commission assume full charge of the sale of tickets for all future world's series.

Taft's Special Derailed at Cadiz, O.

CADIZ, O., Oct. 14.—W. H. Taft's special was derailed again today. The accident this time occurred on a spur running from the Pennsylvania railroad at Cadiz Junction to this place. The train was climbing a steep grade at the time, but the tender went bumping along the track for two or three lengths before it was brought to a stop. On one side of the track was an embankment of about twenty feet and if the tender had plunged over it the result would have been serious.

BANK GUARANTY

Discussed by Wm. J. Bryan Today

COLUMBUS, Neb., Oct. 14.—Wm. J. Bryan began this morning his second day's tour of Nebraska by a short speech at North Bend.

There was a large crowd assembled at Columbus. He talked on the quantity of bank deposits, comparing the objections made against it with the objections that made against fire insurance.

He said:

"The same objection now made to the quantity of bank deposits was made against fire insurance when it was first suggested. Then its opponents argued bitterly that to insure all houses was to make some men careless about fire and that it would lead others to get fire insurance. In order to get the insurance, if that argument had prevailed, no one would have had fire insurance today."

"The case in favor of guaranteed banks is even stronger than the case of the fire insurance because of the $100 penalty against the stockholders added to the entire loss of the investment is sufficient to prevent carelessness and the amount of money called out of hiding will more than repay the tax which is imposed on the bank."

THE WEATHER

6 O'CLOCK SPROULE HISSED

Because of References to Bryan at A. F. of L. Convention

The third day's session of the convention of the Massachusetts state branch of the American Federation of Labor was held at Faneuil hall today and it proved to be the hottest session since the opening of the convention.

The morning session was devoted to the submission and discussion of the report of the "committee of 15" appointed at the protest meeting held at Faneuil hall in Boston in June.

The report was presented in two parts, the report in substance being in support of Samuel Gompers for the presidency and the waging of warfare against those opposed to unionism, especially William H. Taft for president of the United States, Eben S. Draper for governor of Massachusetts, Louis Frothingham for lieutenant governor and the candidates for elector at large from the state.

In the report of the committee the names of the candidates opposed to labor were not mentioned, but an amendment to the acceptance of the report to the effect that the names be inserted was passed.

There was a great deal of excitement at the session and the delegates as well as the presiding officers did not handle each other with kid gloves.

President Sproule of the Car Men's union was roundly hissed for insinuating that William Jennings Bryan said that workmen were beggars and he was followed by a delegate who made the statement that if he (the latter delegate) was hissed he would run the teeth of the hisser down the man's throat.

The "committee of 15" which grew out of the protest meeting held at Faneuil hall in Boston last June submitted a report at the opening of the convention.

The report quoted the resolution adopted at the June meeting of representatives of unions of the state at Faneuil hall, the meeting having been held to protest against the defeat of the peaceful persuasion bill which urged all unions to take steps to support President Gompers.

The committee submitted a summary of the protest meeting and subsequent action taken by the "committee of 15" in conjunction with the executive board and legislative committee of the Massachusetts state board of the American Federation of Labor.

The committee suggests that if any political expression is to be accepted as the sentiment of organized labor it should come as the result of a majority of any meeting, conference or convention qualified to act upon that subject. For years the national conventions of the A. F. of L. have declared the political policy of organized labor to be as follows: To secure pledges in favor of our principle in political platform and to elect our friends and defeat our enemies without regard to party allegiance. Acting in accordance with their instructions given by our national convention at Minneapolis and Norfolk, our national and state executive committees have attended to their duty in national and state politics and have reported what in their opinion are the best interests of our trade union movement demands. Their report and recommendations are, therefore, of the votes of the majority of our federation which gave them their instructions.

We recommend—that mass meetings be at once called by central order, such other steps taken as will best serve to arouse the voters of the commonwealth to a realization of the importance of the pending election. The committee issued a letter to all unions urging that President Samuel Gompers be supported.

Mr. E. Gerry Brown made a motion that the matter be discussed by the convention.

Frank H. McCarthy, chairman of the committee on resolutions, stated that he hoped that the matter would pass through the regular channels and be referred to the proper committee. He said that it was too important to act upon in a "snap" manner at this time. He felt that "snap" or spasmodic action should be taken on the subject in question, but that it should be gone through by the committee when the matter would meet with calm discussion.

Delegate McCarthy stated that if the matter passed through the committee on resolutions it could be presented to the public in a better manner. "For the interest of regularity and preserving your own rules let it pass through the regular channels. If you do not, what you will do today you will reverse tomorrow. I now ask you again that you refer the matter to the committee on resolutions."

Then followed a warm discussion pro and con and during the course of remarks by the delegates who addressed the convention words ran high at times.

It was finally voted that the resolution offered by the "committee of 15" be taken up by the convention instead of being referred to the committee on resolutions.

Then followed a long discussion of the matter at the meeting held at Faneuil hall in June. Several delegates voiced their opinion that no committee of 15 should vote the name of any one candidate for the presidency.

E. Gerry Brown, speaking in a position of privilege, roundly arraigned several delegates who he claimed had made statements relative to his standing in regard to politics and trade-unionism.

Vociferous applause followed Mr. Brown's remarks.

William E. Sproule, president of the local branch of the Street Railway Men's union, was roundly hissed when speaking on the question of candidates for the presidency, he referred to William Jennings Bryan as having said the statement that "working men are beggars."

Following Mr. Sproule's remarks

there were cries of "Did you hear him say so?"

Patrick Mahoney, Cigar Makers' union, No. 57 of Boston, gave a fiery speech on politics.

John E. Potts, Carpenters' union, No. 33 of Boston, scored the delegates for hissing Mr. Sproule and scored delegates who did not carry out the policy of the Federation of Labor.

"If they did here as they do in Great Britain we could have 60 representatives in the houses of representatives," said the speaker.

He then referred to the money expended by the democratic and republican candidates for governor of Massachusetts at the election last year and said that $75,000 was used for purchasing votes.

Delegate Kervin of the Cigar Makers' union of Westfield spoke of the difference of condition in Great Britain and the United States.

Delegate Nolan

Delegate Nolan of the typographical union said that there was a final principle included in the report of the committee. He said that the principal matter to be considered was whether of the A. F. of L. is going to stand behind Samuel Gompers, the national president. He urged the support of Mr. Gompers who is against the use of injunction in labor disputes.

E. Gerry Brown, of Brockton, in a fiery speech, said "Socialism is no longer a million of the laboring vote."

On motion of Delegate Joseph Convery of Lowell, the question was put the question being the adoption of the report of the committee of 15 as read.

The report was accepted by a vote of 91 to 18.

Several delegates placed their names on record as against the adoption of the report.

Delegate Mahoney, one of the members of the "committee of 15" moved that the committee be discharged. This motion brought up a heated discussion.

Promptly at twelve o'clock, noon, E. Gerry Brown, said: "The time of adjournment has arrived and I make a motion to adjourn."

"Your watch is not running this convention," hotly answered the presiding officer.

The question of adjourning was brought up and the vote resulted in a tie, but President Sweet voted in the negative and he announced that the convention would continue.

B. J. Convery of Lawrence stated that the committee on rules stated that the convention would keep in order between the hours of 9 and 12 and 2 and 5 o'clock and that in order to change that it is necessary that a two-thirds vote be given.

At this point one of the vice-presidents was called to the chair and in communicating upon the actions of one of the members, said: "Our organizations sent us here to act but not as babies and clowns in a circus."

Committee Report

At this point the extended report of the "committee of 15" was read, it being as follows:

To the Wage Earners of Massachusetts:

Your attention is called to the profound importance of the pending state and national election and the necessity of giving most careful scrutiny to party platforms and candidates, particularly upon the use of the injunction process in labor disputes.

In March of the present year a conference was called by the executive council of the A. F. of L. at Washington presided by failure to secure any remedial legislation upon the injunction issue and also charging the Sherman anti-trust law, which by a decision of the supreme court, declared trade unions to be conspirators and trusts leaving every member liable to a fine of $5000 and imprisonment for one year of both, said fine and imprisonment.

At a largely attended meeting of the protest committee held at Faneuil hall in June a committee was appointed to recommend a line of political action, both state and national, to particularly oppose senators who had antagonized labor bills and to issue an appeal to the voters of the commonwealth of Massachusetts to cast their ballots for men and principles that will best subserve their interests.

The workers are victims of labor injunctions, such as are never issued against other citizens, which obtained under a false pretense are used to harass and defeat men seeking to better their moral and industrial conditions.

Such injunctions recognize a right of property in men, encroach upon the freedom of speech and the press; force men to work when they desire to quit; refuse to workmen their ordinary privilege as citizens and render them liable to punishment for innocent acts at the whim discretion of a single judge, or when charged with misdemeanor, deny them trial by jury and the reasonable safeguards that protect the rights of a common criminal and

In spite of protests one of the great parties has nominated for the presidency an ex-judge, noted for the flagrancy of the injunctions he issued against labor, who sentenced to jail without a jury trial, reputable workmen accused of no act contrary to the statutory law; has named for governor a famous union breaker, who boasts of the contentment prevailing at his firm's works after all who dared to complain have been driven out; offers for lieutenant governor a persistent opponent of bills for the benefit of workmen, and for election-at-large the man who vetoed the eight-hour and overtime bills.

We urge every union man and every citizen to consider carefully the rights and interests and welfare of his fellow workmen and the future of his children and his country before he votes to endorse labor injunction and elevate his enemies to the offices.

A Circular Letter.

Addressed to organized labor of Massachusetts was appended to the report of the "committee of 15" the letter in detail naming the friends and enemies of organized labor.

Lively Discussion

After the reading of the report of the committee there was a great deal of discussion over the disposition of the matter and after a number of speeches had been made by the delegates, Dennis D. Driscoll, secretary of the A. F. of L. of Lowell, and in an animated speech told what he had done for unionism, how he had gone to the front to carry out the dictations of the laboring people, while the union men who had voted to do the front and expose themselves.

If then went on to explain how in the interest of labor, he with other workers in the interest of labor called at the governor's office at the state house; how Cohen was fatally wounded and how he was shot in the head and was devoted to the cause of the shooting had caused worry in his home, and how he is still suffering from the effects of a wound received while endeavoring to secure justice for the workman.

He also referred to the men who were delegates and representatives of labor who made statements but who were afraid to back them up. His speech, he said, were dogged up to the time he was shot, and in conclusion made the following statement: "Money can buy up and purchase anything."

After further discussion it was voted to accept the entire report of the "committee of 15" and turn it over to the legislative committee of the state branch.

Recess was taken at 1.15 o'clock.

Tonight's Parade

Tonight there will be a rally and parade under the auspices of the Massachusetts state branch American Federation of Labor. The parade formation will take place from in front of the headquarters of the delegates, the Merrimack house at 7.30 o'clock. All members of the state branch and Labor unions and all persons interested in the cause of labor are invited to participate. The route of parade will be through Merrimack to Central, Gorham, Appleton to Central and Merrimack to Associate Hall. Mr. Joseph Convery of Lowell will call the parade and the presiding officer will be Philip H. Sweet, of Boston, president of the Massachusetts A. F. of L. and William H. Sproule, president of the Lowell street railway employees' union.

Yesterday Afternoon's Session

During the course of the convention yesterday a resolution was adopted which stated that "Prohibition is not a crime; it is a farce; it breeds crime and illegitimate 'joints' demoralizing to morality; government by commission is a step towards autocracy instead of democracy, and an effort to stifle the people."

The sentiment that prohibition does not prohibit, but is a farce, was brought out in a general discussion and explanation following the presentation of the following resolution:

"Whereas, An organized effort is being made throughout the country to bring about absolute prohibition of the manufacture and sale of all malt and spirituous liquors and

"Whereas, The success of such a movement would cause hundreds of thousands of our fellow trade unionists to be thrown out of employment, thus adding to the poverty and misery now prevailing among working people.

"Whereas, We believe in the American principle of the broadest personal liberty for the individual, insofar as the exercise of that liberty is in keeping with law and order and good government; and

"Whereas, Statistics compiled by our government show that prohibition breeds 'dives' and 'joints' where an illegitimate traffic in liquor is carried on in violation of law, resulting not only in the government being deprived of any revenue to which it is justly entitled, but in addition thereto creating a demoralizing effect and contempt for all laws; and

"Whereas, We believe in temperance not only in the use of liquor, but temperance in all things, including the advocacy of measures under the name of reform;

"Resolved, That the Massachusetts state branch, A. F. of L. does hereby declare itself opposed to prohibition and opposed to the drastic measures proposed by the advocates thereof.

"But in so declaring our opposition to the doctrine of prohibition we wish to make it understood that we favor the supervision and control by our public officials of saloons and 'dives' where liquor is sold and dispensed, and

"Resolved, That, in the adoption of these resolutions we demand complete recognition of the just demands of labor working at the different crafts engaged in in the various industries as pressed through their various organizations affiliated with the A. F. of L.

The resolution was reported upon as approved by the committee on resolutions and the approval by the convention was a unanimous one after the reading of the resolutions and explanations.

That the entire subject be fully discussed, that the committee state its reasons for recommending the adoption of the resolution, what it meant, why it was advisable, and that every point and fact be fully and clearly explained and understood so that no one could say that the convention was in record in favor of the liquor traffic itself, was the suggestion and request of various delegates.

"It is a moral call," said Chairman McCarthy of the committee. "The statement in the resolution is in accordance with facts."

"It is a fact that prohibition does not prohibit. If it did that would be another proposition. The liquor traffic is an existing condition, has been allowed from the time of man and will probably remain so."

"As prohibition does not prohibit, the laws should regulate and control and determine in what manner, shape and form liquor should be dispensed."

"We believe it would be vastly better for all sections to adopt stringent regulations which can be enforced than admittedly and blindly making prohibition laws under which men have more freedom than under license."

Under stringent regulation the morals of the community would be far better protected than by the unlimited and unrestricted sale of liquor as occurs under prohibition laws.

"The committee approved the resolution from moral, financial and industrial standpoints. It believes the application of the principles named in the resolution will be the best for all people."

"Resolved, That the Massachusetts state branch, A. F. of L. does hereby declare its unanimous opposition to the so-called government by commission, which is now being introduced by a number of citizens for the stifling of a popular form of government by the interests of the few to the detriment of the masses."

"We believe every city and town should be granted the initiative and referendum and right of recall in order that they may enjoy the fullest measure of self-government."

The above was the form of condemnation of the commission idea and the call for greater privileges by the masses, as finally adopted by the convention after considerable debate.

Henry Sterling of Boston Typographical union, for years chairman of the state legislative committee on direct legislation, in his introduction and referendum, started the discussion by declaring that the representatives of the organized wage earners should rightfully oppose government by commission and should strenuously urge and make redoubled efforts for the right of initiative and referendum and of recall. Those issues were a part of the program of the A. F. of L. and had been advocated for years.

"The way to purify a city government is not to take the management further from the influence and control of the people. We find that what the so-called better people who are advocating government by commissions are trying to get is government further and further away from the people. They feel that in getting it away from the common herd the government would be purer and better."

"But you will find that these so-called self-styled better men try to begin and reform a city government by cutting down the wages of the poorest paid workmen and by discharging from employment as many as they possibly can of the poorly paid laborers."

"But they do not do a thing to get rid of rotten franchises or lessen the heavy debts of a city that are burdening the people."

"For once I am not on the floor to kick and E. Gerry Brown as he was recognized on the floor, he is going to express thanks for the right to breathe. I am opposed to government by commission and all that it implies. We should make a clear declaration of our opposition."

Delegate Convery of the Lowell street railway union declared the commission idea is solely an effort to put into the hands of a few the control of all. It was a step toward autocracy instead of a better democracy. He recited the doings of certain commissions in Lowell and declared that they by their actions had killed the commission idea in Lowell and vicinity.

In this connection the convention also approved a resolution that central labor unions and affiliated unions should establish bureaus of information as to registration and naturalization of the foreign born. Every member not a citizen to become citizens and voters as soon as eligible.

The convention declared that the legislature should pass a law that the electrical railway companies of the state be compelled to provide a seat in a street car for the use of the motorman when on duty. Such a step would be in the interests of humanity, it was declared and statistics of the breaking down of motormen were presented.

Holyoke and Worcester were the cities nominated for next year's convention. Mayor Harty of Holyoke sent a communication endorsing the request of the Holyoke C. L. U.

At the school the King boy will be placed in the kindergarten department.

Dr. Wood of Fairhaven, a mental expert and a former member of the staff at the Taunton Insane hospital, testified that after he had examined the boy he was confident that the lad was "a high class imbecile."

As an illustration of the boy's apparent insanity the jail officials said that previous to being taken into court today Young King tore all his clothing into shreds in his cell and had to be supplied with new outfit before he could be taken before the judge.

IT COSTS MONEY

Bulgaria May Need a Loan of $24,000,000

SOFIA, Oct. 14.—There has been radical change in the Bulgarian situation to day. Diplomats in Sofia anticipate that the Bulgarian government will face a strong reaction upon payments and expenses incurred in securing the crown and the little of emperor for Prince Ferdinand is put up to the light as a Bulgarian pauper. It is estimated that Bulgaria will need a foreign loan of at least $24,000,000 to meet foreign demands.

YANKEE'S CREW

Transferred to Boston
Navy Yard

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 14.—Several members of the crew of the U. S. cruiser, the USS. Albatross, who were transferred to the USS. Albatross, were taken off the vessel today and brought to the naval training station here, later leaving for the Boston navy yard on board the collier Lebanon. The Lebanon also had aboard stores and ammunition that had been removed from the vessel after she went ashore and carried it to the torpedo station. After taking on board the men from the Yankee the Lebanon went to the coaling station at Bradford to fill her bunkers and then departed for Boston intending to stop at the scene of the wreck of the Yankee on the way.

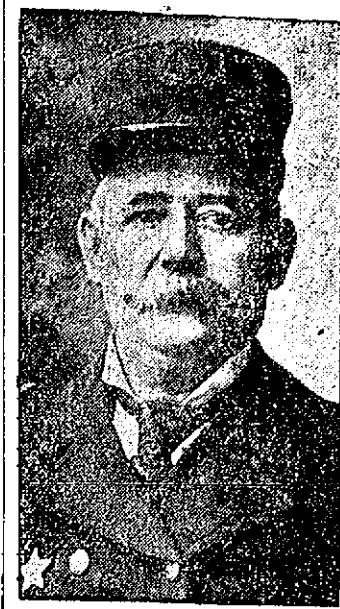

It was understood that but a small portion of the Yankee's crew would be taken to Boston on the Lebanon. At Boston a court of inquiry will be held to ascertain who was responsible for the wrecking of the vessel. The crew of the Yankee will be kept at the Boston navy yard until arrangements for removal can be made.

The Stars and Stripes still fly over the Yankee and she will be kept in commission either until the wreckers have her or the navy department is forced to abandon her.

Miss Moran asserted that she has now discovered that Bear has a Sioux squaw and three papooses at Pine Tree, S. D. Bear was held in bail for next Monday.

GOING FOR POLE BOMB WAS USED

Dr. Cook Says He Expects to More Trouble in Connection Reach Coveted Point With Strike in New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The first message from Dr. Fred Cook, the intrepid Arctic explorer since he started for his dash to the pole from a point north of Etah, February last, has been received in this city. It was brought here by Rudolph Franke, who accompanied Dr. Cook on the early stage of his journey and who received it from the explorer by messengers whom he sent back to the winter base after he was well on his way to the Farthest North.

The message was written on March 17 last about three weeks after Cook had started on the last stage of his journey. It was dated, "Polar sea, north of Cape Hubbard."

Dr. Cook wrote:

"I am making a straight course for the Pole. The boys are doing well and I have plenty of dogs. I hope to succeed. At any rate I shall make a desperate effort. While I expect to get back by the end of May I wish you to be ready to go to Acropolis, the island off North Star which the whalers steamers came before the first of June and if I am not back to go home with the whalers. I think, however, we will be back."

Dr. Cook did not reach the base before Frank started for home and no work had been received from him. Members of the Peary club and the explorers have been considering for some time the advisability of sending an expedition in search of Dr. Cook. He was the only white man in his expedition. He had a large suite of Esquimaux and plenty of dogs.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The death-dealing bomb made its first appearance today in the struggle between the New York Taxi-Cab Co. and its striking chauffeurs. While no one was injured and no serious damage was done still the controversy which from the first has been marked with violent disorders has by this act reached a stage where it is likely that the sternest repressive measures will be required. Both the company and the strikers repudiate the outrage, the company declaring that a deliberate attempt was made by the strikers to destroy the property of their former employers and the strikers maintaining that the deadly missile was hurled in an attempt to turn public sympathy against them or by misguided sympathizers. The bomb was thrown early today into the big enclosure in Eighth avenue between 56th and 57th streets where 250 taxicabs belonging to the New York Taxi-Cab Co. were stored for the night. The explosion shook buildings for blocks and hundreds of persons in the neighborhood were thrown into excitement. Police details from many stations were rushed to the scene and for a time all their efforts were taxed to the limit in controlling the great crowd. The explosion though doing small damage to the taxi-cabs stored in the big enclosure tore a great hole in the ground and stamped a number of special policemen and strike-breakers who were in the vicinity. One of the special policemen declares that he saw the bomb thrown over a high fence around the enclosure. It struck near a big tank of gasoline but fortunately the tank was not injured and no fire followed the explosion.

Some of the strike leaders expressed a belief that it was not a bomb at all but an explosion of gasoline due to the inexperience of some of the men who have taken the places of strikers.

HONORS EVEN

McKINNON AND CONNOLLY BOXED A DRAW

DOVER, N. H., Oct. 14.—Bill McKinnon of Boston and Bartley Connolly of Portland boxed 10 rounds to a draw before 300 fans at Lowell's theatre last night. Both men were in prime condition, McKinnon showing up in better form than on his first appearance here several months ago.

The men did most of their fighting at close quarters and kept Referee Tom Sawyer of Rockland, Me., busy paring them. McKinnon introduced a rapid series of uppercuts on the jaw with his right during the clinches, alternating with taps on the short ribs. The chief effect of these fancy touches was to bring smiles to Connolly's face.

Connolly's efforts were largely exerted to keeping his opponent off at fighting distance. McKinnon's speed was a feature all the way. Connolly forced the fighting in the fourth and fifth rounds and landed heavily with his right occasionally. During these onslaughts McKinnon blocked cleverly.

In the sixth and seventh rounds they again fought at close range, neither securing an advantage. In the eighth McKinnon forced Connolly to the ropes and put him on the defense, but Connolly never weakened. In the two last rounds, which the crowd seemed to regard rather light for a windup, the honors were even.

The preliminary was a six-round draw between Tom Webber of Portland and Young Nadeau of Somersworth.

BANKER MOORE

WILL GO BEFORE A JURY TODAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Charles W. Morse, organizer of the American Ice Co. and the Consolidated S. S. Co. who until the panic of a year ago controlled a number of banks in this city, will face a jury in the criminal branch of the U. S. circuit court today. With Alfred Curtis, former president of the National Bank of North America, Morse was indicted by the federal grand jury last March.

Violation of the national banking laws and conspiracy are alleged in the indictments.

WRESTLING BOUT

ROGERS AND WESTERGARD MEET NEXT MONDAY

After careful consideration, the board of police has granted a license for a wrestling match between Yankee Rogers and Jesse R. Westergard, the bout to be held in Associate hall Monday night of next week.

In granting this license, the board believes that the turbulent scene enacted at the last match will not be repeated. While Rogers and Westergard are undoubtedly full of determination to win, they are strangers to each other and to Lowell, and the hysterical stunts of the Conkle-Young brooks match will not again be in evidence.

The impression which has perhaps been created by a newspaper story that the board of police is antagonistic to the Greek people of Lowell does the board an injustice. The board takes the position that all wrestling matches shall be conducted in an orderly manner, but does not attempt to say from what nationality any contestant shall be selected. All the board asks is clean sport.

Turkey Also Asks Cash Compensation From Bulgaria

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—Neither Austria-Hungary or Turkey has yet given its consent in the proposed agreement to settle the existing situation in the Near East. Austria-Hungary declines to participate unless it is agreed that the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina be not discussed and accepted and legalized by the powers without debate. Turkey desires a free hand in Macedonia as well as cash compensation from Bulgaria for the Oriental railroad in eastern Rumelia and some other outstanding claims. All the powers are in favor of a fixed program and a majority of them are inclined to omit from the discussions the question of the passage of the Dardanelles and the Cretan proclamation for a union with Greece.

THE HOLY NAME

Big Meeting in Sacred Heart Parish

The Sacred Heart Holy Name society held a smoke talk in the school hall on Andrews street last evening and it proved to be one of the best social affairs ever held by the organization. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with the national colors and the inscription "Sacred Heart Holy Name Society" occupied a conspicuous position in the front of the hall. A picture of the Sacred Heart was in position in the center of the decoration. Seated on the platform were the clergy of the church, President Ward and the reception committee.

Prof. Hugh J. Molloy of the Normal school, who will be marshal of the Lowell division in the Boston parade on Nov. 1, was the principal speaker of the evening. When he was presented every seat in the spacious hall was occupied and he received a great ovation.

Mr. Molloy took as his subject, "Daniel O'Connell, the Irish statesman and patriot." He also spoke on the formation of the parade for Nov. 1. At the close of his address Mr. Molloy was extended a rising vote of thanks by the members of the society. The musical program was then presented. Mr. Martin Maguire, the well-known and popular tenor, sang a solo. He was followed by Mr. George Carpenter, sang a solo; Mr. Walter Finnegan, gave a piano selection; Mr. Curry, favored the assemblage with a solo; Mr. Eugene Flynn, gave a recitation; Mr. Tyson, delivered "The American War," in an able manner. The Glendale quartet composed of Messrs. Hagure, Golden, Curry and Moore, all members of the society, was then introduced by Chairman Ward. Then in a capable manner, the quartet rendered several popular selections. Remarks were made by Rev. John O'Brien, O. M. I., spiritual director; James J. Ward, president; and Owen Farrell, who has charge of the society. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge, which was Messrs. Grace, Kennedy, Kerwin, Gorman and Farrell.

On next Thursday night the society will meet in the hall for practice in drilling, and a large attendance is expected.

THE TICKET NAMED

Rhode Island Republicans Named Pothier for Governor

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 14.—With every indication of a generally harmonious gathering, the state ticket having been previously decided upon to the satisfaction, it was believed, of all, and with no questions likely to arouse acrimonious discussion, the republicans of Rhode Island today held the state convention of their party in this city. One small dispute, the interest in which did not extend beyond the delegation immediately affected, was carried through to the convention through the inability of the executive committee of the state central committee to adjust. It was a matter of credentials in the East Providence delegation and as the names of one side had been placed on the temporary roll of the convention no fight was anticipated.

The ticket decided upon included Aram J. Pothier of Woonsocket for governor, Arthur D. Dennis of Providence for the second place and the rest on the present ticket were renominated.

The preparation of a platform had been placed in the hands of a committee yesterday and had progressed considerably up to a late hour last night so that it was expected to be ready at the appointed time in the proceedings of the day.

With the perfection of the convention organization under a temporary chairman it had been arranged that Charles L. Robinson of Newport should assume the presiding officer's chair.

At ten o'clock, the hour for starting, the convention found delegates from all parts of the states in the corridors and connecting ante-rooms of the hall. The committee was not on hand and it was thought the convention would be late in forming. The meeting place was artistically decorated with red, white and blue bunting and over the front gallery hung a portrait of the Taft and Sherman. A band stationed at the foot of the platform played several national anthems as the delegates began to congregate in the hall. Everyone seemed to be talking.

Shortly before 11 o'clock Col. C. L. Robinson of Newport took the speaker's chair and rapped the convention to order. As soon as the seating of the delegates was over Judge Nathan Wright of Providence began the roll call.

The contest over the seating of the delegation from East Providence, which was but only half expected, did not materialize, the East Providence contingent abiding by the decision made last evening by the executive committee of the republican state central committee.

Following the presentation of the credentials of the delegates, the temporary organization was made permanent. Chairman Robinson addressed the convention briefly.

Following the election of the state central committee, two changes being made in the former make-up of the committee.

After the election the platform committee left the hall and following a five minute recess they re-entered with the platform which was read by D. J. White of this city.

The reading of the platform was punctuated by frequent outbursts of applause and when it was finished three rousing cheers were given by the delegates who arose to their feet as a unit.

Joseph Fletcher of Bristol, H. M. Brown of Providence, Robert W. Gould of Newport and Edward Arnold of Coventry, were chosen presidential electors.

At this point State Senator John P. Santora of Newport in a few well chosen remarks, nominated A. J. Pothier for the gubernatorialship. Senator Santora praised Mr. Pothier's public career and declared him the choice of the republican party. The nomination was by acclamation.

The following ticket was nominated: Lieutenant governor—Arthur Dennis, Providence; Secretary of state—Charles Bennett of Providence.

For attorney general—W. B. Greenough, Providence.

For general treasurer—Walter Bond of Gloucester.

The state was elected by acclamation.

BOSTON & MAINE

Annual Meeting of Company Was Held in Lawrence Today

LAWRENCE, Oct. 14.—Although the stockholders of the Boston & Maine at their annual meeting in this city today were called upon to act upon a number of important matters affecting the general interest of the company, attention was largely attracted to the selection of the men who will have charge of the company's affairs during the coming year.

That the control of the road through the possession of large blocks of the common stock, which alone has a voting power, was practically in the hands of the New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R. Co., notwithstanding nearly two years of agitation and some adverse legislation, was generally admitted before the meeting today, but whether the New Haven interests will demand important changes in the directorate was a matter which was not made public until some time after the meeting began.

As usual all the stockholders had the privilege of reaching the city by the railroad without paying a fare upon the presentation of their stock certificates, and once here nearly all sought the city hall where the annual sessions of the Boston & Maine have been held for many years.

The call for the meeting stated that the stockholders would be asked to approve the report of the directors made public some time ago; to elect a board of officers for the coming year; to rescind a vote passed in 1907 authorizing the issuance of $5,000,000 of bonds, to take up the floating indebtedness and to authorize $12,000,000 to be issued not only for such indebtedness, but for needed improvements.

It was generally believed that action on the first and third articles would prove perfunctory, but that there might be an interesting contest for directors with strong opposition from certain stockholders who have bitterly sought the control of the New Haven in the legislature and in the courts.

Last year's meeting proved abortive through the action of the state legislature in preventing the voting of 110,000 shares of common stock held by the New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R., thereby preventing a quorum being present. Since that meeting the possession of the big block of stock both in and out of the legislature has passed from the New Haven road into the hands of John L. Billard of Meriden, Conn., a wealthy retired business man, said to be favorable to the interests of the New Haven company so that the stock has since been regarded as practically, although not technically, in the control of the New Haven road.

After the minutes had been read it was voted to dispense with the reading of the annual report.

The first new business was the passage of a vote that the number of directors should be increased to sixteen, the present number being eleven. The list of directors prepared by the executive committee to be voted on today was then announced.

The list includes the following members of the old board: President D. J. White, Brookline; Samuel Lawrence, Medford; Alvah Sulloway, Franklin, N. H.; Joseph White, Brookline; W. Whiting, Holyoke; Amos Williams, Brookline and Richard Olney, Boston.

The new names presented are Edward Ricker, South Portland, Me.; Frank Richards, Portland; J. M. Prendergast, Boston; Edwin Green, Wayland; F. C. Dunne, Concord, Mass.; F. T. Brown, Norwalk, Conn.; Charles Linsey, Meriden, Conn.; Samuel Hemingway, New Haven and John Billard, Meriden, Conn. Of the old board Walter Hunsell of Wellesley, H. F. Dimock of New

Attacked and Destroyed Post Office

JAFFA, Palestine, Oct. 14.—A mob today, attacked the Austrian postoffice here and destroyed a number of mail carts and letter boxes. The disorder grew out of the efforts of political agitators who dwell on the recent action of Austria-Hungary in annexing the provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

The trouble began on the arrival today of the Austrian mail steamer. The lighter men of the port refused to have anything to do with her and it was impossible to land her cargo. The mails and passengers were disembarked, however, after which the people moved on the postoffice and vented their anger on the property of the Austrian government.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Was Greeted by Great Crowds in Nebraska Yesterday

WAHOO, Neb., Oct. 14.—William J. Bryan yesterday campaigned in his own state and last night in this place completed the first of his three days' tour of Nebraska. Big crowds greeted him at every point and when his day's work was over he had delivered 21 speeches, varying in length from five minutes to an hour. His arguments were confined mostly to the stands of Mr. Taft and Governor Hughes, who recently visited Nebraska. The audiences were mostly farmers and the democratic candidate frequently moved them to loud applause. A car load of speakers was brought along out of Omaha and at each place visited, one was dropped off to complete the work of expounding democratic doctrine. Mr. Bryan accused Mr. Taft of not making the speech in Nebraska that he had been making in other parts of the country.

"He did not discuss the guarantee of bank deposits," he said, "doubtless because he was informed that the people of Nebraska are in favor of the guarantee of deposits. His appeal was to the farmers and it was based on the fact that the farmers have had good crops and fair prices. But did the republican party give you good crops? All who think that the republican party is responsible for good crops should thank the republican party. Those who believe as we do that the good crops are due to the fertility of the soil, to reasonable rains and to the warm sunshine should thank the Almighty."

He asked his audience if the republicans had given them high prices. "Are not agricultural prices," he inquired, "as high in Canada as they are here? Are not agricultural prices as high in England as they are here? Have not values increased in Europe as well as in America? You must find some cause that is as extended as the results which you are trying to account for, and the influence of the republican party is confined to the United States. The farmers should not be deceived by the argument now addressed to them, for a similar argument was addressed to laboring men eight years ago."

He then spoke of the empty dinner pail. It was void, he said, because the bottom had dropped out of it and now the farmers were told that the republicans are to give them a full basket. The republican party, he declared, had no policy that promised benefit to the farmer, "but he is the victim of all the abuses that have grown up under republican rule. What do they say in their platform now? Why—'We are ashamed to tell you what they say. What they say is so awfully bad that the Omaha Bee thought I said it and printed an editorial against it. Now is not that pretty hard to have a republican platform so bad that it would be mistaken for one of my speeches? The Bee thought I said it and law—law—how that Bee did lambast me. There was more truth in that editorial of the Bee than I have seen in it for the last 31 years."

Discussing reforms, the candidate said that there was not one that Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Taft stood for that he had not fought for before either of them spoke on the subject to anybody. In the opinion of Mr. Bryan, Governor Hughes was not the kind of man to give advice to people who want remedial legislation.

"Mr. Hughes," he said, "came out here to tell you that our plan was ridiculous and he laughed all over the state and all over the West, laughed so heartily at the absurdity of our plan that he could not get himself in a condition to suggest any plan himself. It may be a laughing matter for Governor Hughes, but it is not a laughing matter for the people of this country. All of you who think that we do not need a remedy can laugh with Governor Hughes, for he thinks that we do not need a remedy; but if you believe we need a remedy, you will not be satisfied with the man who proposes no remedy."

After speaking at Wahoo, Mr. Bryan returned to Fairmount. The first of his twenty-three speeches was scheduled for North Bend at 9 o'clock and the last at Hebron at 8:20 at night.

FINANCIER C. W. MORSE FACES A FEDERAL TRIAL

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The trial of Charles W. Morse and of Alfred H. Curtis, who was Morse's president of the National bank of North America, New York, prior to the panic a year ago, on indictments for alleged violations of the national banking law and for alleged conspiracy begins before Judge Hough in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court in New York on Oct. 14. The two men were jointly indicted last March by the federal grand jury after an investigation of their operations in the National Bank of North America. There is a vast mass of evidence to be submitted and it is expected that the trial will occupy several days. Much interest centers in the case because of the scope of Morse's operations and the effort he is now making to rehabilitate himself in the financial world.

HUSBAND GETS $1 FOUR NEAR DEATH

Wife Says He Married for Money

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—One dollar, payable in monthly instalments of 25 cents, is the bequest given Andrew Heckler by his late wife, Catherine E. Heckler of Portland, Ore. Her will was filed in the Cook county probate court yesterday. The husband is referred to as an "individual."

The will was filed by Atty. B. S. Pague of Portland, who is bequeathed a cut glass water bottle. Mrs. Isabella Vance, a friend, is given the remainder of the estate.

"Thus I dispose of my personal property," says the will, "for the reason that Andrew Heckler told me he had married me for my money and after he had got all he could get he deserted me and vilified me, and I give all, except the cut glass water bottle, to Mrs. Isabella Vance, for the reason that she has been kind and considerate of me and I am more like a daughter to me than only a friend; and, too, I know that she will see to it that I am properly and decently buried and that my grave is suitably marked."

The couple were married in San Diego, Cal., Heckler being a native of that city. His wife had inherited a fortune of many thousand dollars and real estate holdings here, in California and elsewhere. The bulk of the real estate is in this city.

WANTS $100,000 TWO LOWELL MEN LOSS IS $25,000

School Department in Need of That Amount

Unless the school department gets a loan very soon the school teachers will be "sly" on their salaries. The monthly pay roll of the school department is about $26,000 and there is only about $16,000 left to the credit of the department.

At the beginning of the year the department estimated its expenses for the year at $337,000 and the appropriation committee allowed it $257,000. A loan of $100,000 will be asked probably at the next meeting of the city council.

Returned With Deer in Their Auto

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 14.—With a deer in their automobile, one of two which were shot near Tenah stream in the eastern part of the state, I. H. Morse and D. H. Tamey of Lowell, Mass., arrived here last night from Cadillac, making the trip of 249 miles yesterday.

They went into the deep woods with the automobile and after lines were obtained to build temporary roads and ford the streams.

Fire Broke Out in Wolfboro, N. H.

WOLFBOURNE, N. H., Oct. 14.—A loss of nearly $25,000 was caused late last night by the burning of the Goodwin block, situated in the heart of the business section of the town.

The block was a long, one-story wooden structure. The fire, which is thought to have started from a defective chimney, had gained great headway before being discovered, and for a time threatened to spread to adjoining property, but was confined to the one block. Four stores were burned out. Joseph W. Robins, drug store, Frank P. Morrill restaurant, Sylvester A. Edgerly, boot and shoe store, and Charles H. Johnson, dry goods.

The block was owned by Mrs. Eliza Goodwin, whose loss is estimated at $15,000.

The property was insured for about two-thirds.

NEW MACADAM ROAD

Work has begun on the proposed new macadam road which is to be built on the state highway in Billerica and which when completed will extend from the common, about one mile south on the Woburn road. The work is to be done at the expense of the state.

DEMOCRATIC COUNCILMEN.

Democratic councilmen should not concern themselves so much about the burning desire of some republicans to elect a different city physician. Let them pull their own chestnuts out of the fire. Don't help to displace a good man for a novice.

THE CARPET STRIKE.

The carpet strike has been declared off, but there seems to be no inclination on the part of the management to take back those who have thus surrendered unconditionally. If this is the result of blacklisting we rather think that it is an extreme and mistaken policy and one that is likely to militate against the company at some future time.

THEY'RE WORKING FOR TAFT.

Almost anyone would be a socialist if they could travel about the country, as does Debs, in a special train, with chefs, valets, secretaries and a brass band. By the way, who puts up the money for that display of regal splendor?—Jackson Citizen Press.

There is little doubt that Debs' traveling expenses are paid by the republican party the opinion of his followers to the contrary notwithstanding. If Mr. Debs is in the employ of the republican party on his campaign tour he is not going to acquaint his followers of the fact. There is good reason to believe also that republican money is being used to secure the service of the Hearst papers in a crusade of the vilest vituperation against Mr. Bryan.

It is plain that the republican party relies in a great measure upon the socialists and the independence league to defeat Mr. Bryan in the close states. Here are two societies that are shooting for the laboring man and the victims of trust oppression, and yet they are both aiding the party that piles burdens on the workingman and that is in alliance with the oppressive trusts that have passed beyond the control of the federal government.

PUNISHMENT OF SCHOOL CHILDREN.

The method of punishing a child adopted by a Peabody school teacher that resulted in having a boy shut up in a dark closet for twenty hours including the night, is one that should never be adopted. The teacher in a moment of rush and evident excitement to correct the boy for some misdemeanor shoved him into a book closet and locked the door on him. That was the last she thought of the boy until on the following morning at eleven o'clock she went to the closet and found the little fellow half dead.

All during the night the child's parents of course were frantic over his absence and had the police enlisted to assist in finding him. The case was really very aggravating, and the only explanation of it, is that the young teacher was in a state of mental excitement in view of the fact that she was to be a bridemaid that evening.

This and other forms of punishment not specifically laid down by school committees should be prohibited. The method of placing pepper on the child's tongue is equally reprehensible, and this is but one of many freak means of punishment occasionally resorted to by some teachers.

SHELDON IN THE TRUSTS.

A short time ago the republicans made a great ado on the statement of President Roosevelt that Governor Haskell of Oklahoma, president of the democratic national committee had at one time been in the employ of certain trusts. As a result of President Roosevelt's charge Governor Haskell resigned in order that he might in no way embarrass Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Bryan, however, soon demonstrated that the treasurer of the republican national committee, Mr. Sheldon, was not only connected with trusts but was a stock holder and prominent member of some of the largest trusts in the country. The following are the trusts in which Mr. Sheldon is financially interested:

American Locomotive Automobile Company.
Bethlehem Steel Company.
American Locomotive Company.
Cincinnati Northern Railroad Company.
Detroit Edison Company.
Electrical Securities Corporation.
Laclede Gas Light Company.
Locomotive and Machine Company, Limited, Montreal.
Locomotive Security Company.
Metropolitan Trust Company.
Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company.
Milwaukee Light, Heat and Traction Company.
National Copper Bank.
New Jersey Terminal Dock and Improvement Company.
North American Company.
Republic Iron and Steel Company.
Rogers Locomotive Works.
St. Louis Transit Company.
Union Bag and Paper Company.
Union Electric Light and Power Company.
Union Electric Light, Heat and Power Company.
United Railways Company of St. Louis.

It is plain that the republican official does not consider it wrong to be connected with the trusts as he has not resigned and has no intention of resigning. Any such action on his part would be contrary to the alliance that exists between the republican party and the trusts for the purpose of retaining the republicans in office.

Strange that President Roosevelt should have stirred the country with his thunderbolts because Treasurer Haskell is reputed to have done legal work for a trust, while his highness failed completely to discover Sheldon's trust record. There is none so blind as those who will not see.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIGOROUS OCTOBER CAMPAIGN

Providence Tribune: Excluding the Monday before election there now remain but seventeen working campaign days, and they are evidently going to be very busy ones. Though the republicans profess almost supreme confidence, and certainly have reason to feel great confidence, their plans point to the hardest, October campaign they have made since 1872, when they were so soundly whipped. Much of the work will now be in organizing for getting the voters out, but it is also observed that all the cabinet officials and other high Washington officials of speaking ability are hurrying out upon the stump. The president, however, is understood to have decided that it is not expedient for him to show his hand conspicuously in the rest of the campaign. It is a wise decision. Whether his noisy interference hitherto has hurt Mr. Taft's chances may be open to question; but it certainly has not helped them.

DEMANDS OF CAMPAIGNING

N. Y. Evening Post: Modern campaigning is more and more coming to require the physique of a Titan and the voice of a Stentor. To speak night and day, indoors and out, in tents and from automobiles and car platforms, in wind and rain and smoke and fumes—and this with scarcely time to rest or sleep—is an ordeal which lays low all but the stoutest. Gov. Hughes is a man of sneaky endurance, but his voice gave out yesterday. Judge Taft is a man of great strength, and a glutton for work, yet his touring has almost broken him down. Even the athletic Roosevelt could not hold the pace in 1900. All the greater wonder is it, by comparison, that Bryan goes on his receding way without a sign of fatigue or hoarseness. Long practice counts for much, in his case, no doubt, but the natural endowment is extraordinary. If Carlyle could have witnessed his feats of stump-oratory, he would have withdrawn his backing of Webster against the universe.

THE PRESIDENT'S SOLE AUTHORITY

Harper's Weekly:—Now, the only basis of the president's assertion that $200,000 was found in the democratic treasury, that Haskell had tried to bribe Mondak, was a mere statement to that effect by Mr. Hearst, whom the president himself over and over again has denounced as a wholly untrustworthy, has compared to a skunk, and has pronounced the virtual assassin of McKinley. Haskell seems to be a poor lot, but not a particle of evidence has been produced to support the bribery story. On the contrary, every person who might be supposed to know, including Mondak himself, had denied it flatly before the president made his "incidental" remark. The $200,000 was too silly, of course, for even words from any other source. Even the Hearst papers had taken it back before the president spoke. Not that retraction was necessary. No person possessing a grain of sense ever believed for an instant that Messrs. Ryan and Belmont had kept this large sum of money to turn over to Messrs. Mack and Haskell for use in a Bryan campaign. Did the president believe it? Not for a second. He has more grains of sense than one. He knew, of course, that the story was a lie. And yet he gave it sanction of his great authority, his great position, his great reputation as a man of probity, pledged above all things, to fair as well as honest dealings. Now, this may be effective campaigning or may not. It may help Taft or may not. We don't know. What we do feel is that every intelligent and fair-minded person must realize that such talk is inexpressibly cheap and demagogic.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

To Bertha Schultz, a young dressmaker in Hamburg, Germany, $10,000 was bequeathed on condition that she never marry a man engaged in an intellectual occupation. She is already engaged to an accountant, and she and her fiancé are now endeavoring to persuade the law that the work is purely mechanical.

Mrs. Josefa Osborne, a prominent New York authority on women's costumes, has just returned from Paris and London, but she brings none of the widely advertised director gowns. "The sheath gown," says Mrs. Osborne, "is a myth. Nobody wears them in Paris or London, and never will wear them. And they will never come to this city. A dressmaker in Paris sent some sheath gowns out on the streets for advertising purposes. She received her advertising, but the sheath gown died there."

Miss Josephine Casey, who has done much for the working girls of Chicago, is to come to Boston as the secretary of the Boston Woman's Trade Union league. In Chicago she came to take up the cause of the working girls because of her position in the elevated railway, where every day she saw the crowds of poor working women going to their hard labor for which they received so little, and home again to their miserable homes at night. She was moved to espouse their cause and succeeded in so well that she organized the women that they could demand and secure better treatment. Miss Addams and other prominent women assisted her in her efforts, and Boston women have asked her to repeat the work there that she did in Chicago.

Miss Josephine C. Delmonico, great-granddaughter of the man who made Delmonico's restaurant famous, is the owner of the two valuable restaurant properties of that name in New York.

Miss Anna C. Wilson, one of the four delegates to the recent International Typographical union convention in Boston, is at the head of the movement to raise $1,000,000 for the endowment of the printer's home at Colorado Springs. She is a trustee of the home, having been elected over eight men who were anxious for the place. She is one of the expert machine operators in the government service at Washington and has been a member of the Typographical union for 15 years.

The body of the late Bishop Henry C. Potter of New York will be interred in the crypt of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, on Morningside Heights, New York, on October 20, the date of the thirtieth anniversary of Bishop Potter's ordination to the bishopric.

Mrs. Mary McGeehan, who was 105 last month, has lived on oatmeal all her life, and works about the farm at Brookagh, Donegal, Ire., with her children and grandchildren. She is the widow of a tenant farmer and her faculties are practically unimpaired.

It has become known that the author of "Agnes," the emotional drama, being played with Nance O'Neill in the leading role, is Mrs. Sydney Drew, wife of Sydney Drew, the actor, and sister-in-law of John Drew. Mrs. Drew disguised her identity under the nom de plume of George Cameron.

The widow of Governor Richard Yates, who was governor of Illinois, whom the people called "Dick," and the mother of the ex-governor of the same name, recently died at Jacksonville in that state. That was the birthplace of Mrs. Yates, who was 86 years old. Since the early '50s she had lived in the house built by her husband, which he modeled after Webster's home.

The Earl of Rosslyn, who last year was divorced by his second wife, who was a Miss Anna Robinson of New York, has been married in a registry office in London to Vera Bayley, the daughter of an ex-officer of lancers.

A LIVELY BLAZE

Barn Was Badly Damaged by Fire

Shortly before 8 o'clock last night an alarm from box 35 summoned the fire department to a blaze in a barn belonging to Patrick Hunt in the rear of his residence, 35 Manchester street. Before the fire department arrived the blaze had gained a good headway. The barn with the exception of some hay, was empty. The loss will be considerable, though partly covered by insurance placed with Fred C. Church and T. C. Lee. One wagon standing near the barn was badly burned before it could be removed, but an adjoining shed and the residence, not 30 feet from the barn, were saved by the vigorous efforts of the firemen. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Hunt being away when the blaze was first discovered. Mrs. Hunt was also absent from her home, being in a near-by store conducted by Mrs. Nellie L. Golden.

Neighbors were the first to notice the fire and attracted the attention of a man who pulled in the box alarm while others in the meantime in having a telephone alarm to the Gorham street engine house and the apparatus, horse carriage and steamer from there were on their way when the bells were sounding the signal call.

A LABOR LEADER

Said to Have Been Promised Good Job by President

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The democratic national committee, through John J. Gordon, assistant and acting chief of the press bureau at headquarters, last night made public the following statement:

"It was stated at the national democratic committee headquarters last night that President Roosevelt, by promise of office, has succeeded in having one of the big men of the American Federation of Labor desert President Gompers in his advocacy of the election of Mr. Bryan for the presidency.

"The labor leader in question is Daniel J. Keefe of Detroit, president of the International Association of Longshoremen, and one of the vice-presidents of the Federation of Labor.

"The democratic committee alleges that Keefe and the president were closeted for several hours in Washington on Saturday, Oct. 3, and the offer of being named commissioner-general of Immigration, made vacant by the death of Commissioner Sargent, was made, in consideration of Keefe's repudiating Mr. Gompers and the executive council of the federation.

"Keefe, on Saturday last, issued a statement in which he said, 'I am going to vote for William H. Taft.' "It is pointed out that on Sept. 26 last the executive council of the American Federation of Labor issued a circular calling on all organizations of labor to work for the defeat of Mr. Taft and republican congressmen seeking re-election, and Mr. Keefe authorized his signature to be attached to it.

"The source of the democratic committee's information was not divulged last night, but the information was offered that if Mr. Keefe or President Roosevelt deny the charge, another big labor leader now in New York will come forward with facts to prove that the offer was made, and Mr. Keefe accepted it, and has commenced to make good his part of the deal."

MAZDAZNAN CASE

Witness said he never heard Mrs. Shaw say that her husband after death was black and strangled his son Maxwell, or that he might be with him.

He never saw her take any dew-bell, never knew that the "little master" possessed a name, nor dressed on "M. M. S.," nor ever saw Hiltner's No. 3, nor worked on the temple with him, he never heard "Unger Studies."

He didn't know Dr. Hargish, and was asked about Mandanization, witness pronounced it wrong, it was not his business to do it.

"She said it would not cost anything except for the serving of the writ, less we won the case."

"Have you heard Mrs. Shaw anything about the father's visit to the jail with Mrs. Shaw?" asked one of the fairer stories.

"No, never."

"Do you know if Mrs. Dutton has reputation for untruth?"

"She has."

Mr. Kittredge then took witness by the hand and asked him to localize his reputation. Witness said it was mainly in the family, but he could not say in particular instances, at which he smiled. He gave the name of a party, outside the family, who charged her with being untruthful.

She said she had been asked to withdraw from the court room. Mrs. Shaw was on the stand. His wife was a very honest person, Mr. Kitteridge said. He said he had learned enough against her from any way with the witness by herself or other influence and he believed with that woman there was anything in the court room who would do anything.

Mr. Kitteridge renewed his request for the removal of Mrs. Hilton. He said that if the court did not agree to have her leave the room, the court might have to adjourn for the day. He said he had, where she would be in a position to see the witness face to face. The court allowed the suggestion.

MELBOURNE, Oct. 14.—Premier Deakin today presented to the house the answer received from President Roosevelt in reply of Australia's invitation to visit the commonwealth on his return journey from Africa. Mr. Roosevelt expresses his appreciation of the courtesy but regrets that he will be unable to visit Australia on his way back from his hunting expedition. In conclusion the president says he hopes at some future time to be able to come to "the giant young commonwealth of the southern seas whose success is of the greatest importance to the civilized world."

DIED IN A CELL BURT GETS THERE

Tragic Death of Woman at the Police Station

A case of self-destruction took place last night in the police station shortly before midnight. The victim proved to be Mary Boyle, who was booked for drunkenness by Officer Hickey at 11:24 o'clock. She answered all questions plainly when being booked and when removed to the women's wing of the station she did not appear different from any other prisoner. Fifteen minutes after being placed in her cell, Officer John T. Whittaker, on his last round for the night, before going off duty, saw by the dim electric light the woman hanging from the iron grating of her door. She had tied an old shawl about her throat and hanged herself. Officer Whittaker slammed open the door and called for help. Officer Joseph L. Lamoureux responded promptly and the two men cut the body of the woman down with their knives. For the next half hour the officers worked over the body in an attempt to revive a spark of life. Then City Physician Forster H. Smith arrived and told the men that she was dead, and probably had been when she was first discovered. She had acted

Though School Board Takes New Method

Somewhere it is provided that no employe of the city shall draw two salaries from the municipality and somewhere in the rules of the school department it is provided that no day school teacher shall engage in tutoring outside of regular day school hours. Yet the school department after quitting its attempt to oust Principal

Thomas G. Robbins of the evening high school to make room for Carl D. Burt has handed Mr. Robbins the appointment in one hand and a year's leave of absence in the other, while Mr. Burt who is a regular teacher in the day high school goes back to the evening high school as its principal, thus appearing on two pay rolls and tutoring day and night.

At the union meeting in Centralville last night Rev. J. C. Carleton spoke on "The Power of the Kingdom." His sermon was followed by a service of prayer and consecration. There were representatives from many of the churches present. Rev. G. W. Fuller will be the speaker tonight. Subject will be "The Appointment of the Kingdom."

CHURCH NOTES

The 105th meeting of the eastern convocation, composed of clergymen of the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts, will be held for conference in St. Anne's church tomorrow. Sermon and holy communion at 10:30 a. m., to which the public is invited. The preacher will be the Rev. W. H. Faulkner, rector of St. Paul's church, Boston.

ANOTHER BREAK

Horse Taken From Barn in Tewksbury

A short time ago The Sun made mention of horse thieves who entered barns in both Westford and Chelmsford and stole horses and making good their escape. Now news of similar depredations come from Tewksbury and probably the same thief or thieves referred to above have been successfully at work there. It appears that the barn of Luke Hutchinson in Andover street, Tewksbury, was broken into some time during Monday night and a valuable Kentucky bred horse and a rubber tired buggy were stolen.

The horse and buggy were missed early yesterday, and the matter was at once reported by Mr. Hutchinson to the police. There was no clue as to which way the thieves went from the barn. The horse was a bay in color and was said to be a high stepper. The horses stolen from Westford and Chelmsford were good roadsters and were high priced.

SPANISH QUEEN

Failed to Win Walnut Hall Cup Race

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 11.—The feature of yesterday's racing was the remarkable but unsuccessful attempt of Dan Patch to lower his record of 1:55. Although he went the mile in 1:56 1/4, effort, considering his age and conditions, is said to have been more remarkable even than his record performance. He was tired at the finish.

The feature event of the program was the Walnut Hall cup race, which proved a great disappointment. Uhlman won in straight heats and Spanish Queen, the over-night favorite, was nowhere. Summaries:

ALMOST A RIOT

Mob in London Incited by British Women

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The climax of the suffragette campaign was reached last night when an enormous mob hemmed in parliament and stopped the traffic in all streets leading to Westminster. For more than three hours the crowds scuffled good-naturedly with the police, interfering with the progress of the business of the day.

The heroine of the day was Mrs. Travers Symonds, formerly secretary to James K. Hardie, the socialist and independent member of parliament, who reached the door of the house of commons by strategy. The house was solemnly debating a bill to prohibit children from smoking cigarettes, when the woman dashed past the doorkeeper to a position in front of the speaker's chair and, shouting shrilly:

"Leave off discussing children and talk about the women."

Three officials seized Mrs. Symonds and carried her out bodily. She was then led to the outer door and dismissed. As a result of her broad order was issued that hereafter women should not be admitted to the building on any pretext whatever, and in the future the historic grille will not screen feminine spectators.

"Rush" Brings Out 100,000

The appeal issued by the suffragettes a few days ago for 50,000 persons to help them "rush" parliament at half past seven o'clock last evening was the most successful stroke yet. Not less than twice that number responded to the call and nine-tenths of these were young people who came to see the fun. There were also a few hundred of the unemployed and their sympathizers.

Parliament was in a state of siege. A close triple line of police was drawn around the three sides of the square in front of the building. The road within the gates swarmed with police and 200 guarded the terrace in the rear against assault by water, which the woman twice attempted. A small fleet of police boats also patrolled the Thames approaches.

All the mounted police in London and suburbs had been mobilized at this center, and loads of hay were stacked in the streets for the horses. The whole police force, together with cavalry, infantry and marines, numbering more than 5000, was kept busy in restraining the pushing, struggling masses, especially about Trafalgar square, where the Nelson monument looked down upon the dense crowds in all directions. Buses, motor cars and cabs, mostly filled with sightseers, trying to thread their way through. The police kept the streets adjoining the house of commons clear, elsewhere they endeavored to the best of their ability to keep the people moving.

Let Themselves Loose

The crowds cheered, sang songs and hooted, giving voice to all the sarcastic remarks characteristic of a London crowd. These were aimed in a semi-good-natured manner at the suffragettes, who, distinguished by their orange sashes, marched everywhere, distributing tracts.

A delegation of 13 suffragettes, which approached the police cordon and was formally refused admission to parliament, attempted a football rush, but the police chivalrously repulsed the women with the least possible roughness. Two bodies of the unemployed, however, which approached the line, were driven off with little saving grace, one across Westminster bridge and the other to St. James park. The police were pelted with vegetables and some stones in a few minor skirmishes that occurred, but nobody was hurt. Twenty-four suffragettes and 12 of the unemployed were placed under arrest.

Many persons fainted in the crush; a few were trampled upon and taken to the hospital.

Mrs. Pankhurst, Miss Christabel Pankhurst and Mrs. Lawrence were summoned to court yesterday for inciting a breach of the peace, but they foolishly refused to obey the summons and agreed to surrender themselves at 6 o'clock in the evening, which they did, spending the night in the Bow street station.

CITY PHYSICIAN

Common Council Battered Without a Choice

The presence of a well known undertaker at city hall, last evening, lobbying for one of the candidates for city physician, caused the jokers to get busy and many a "quip and crank and wanton wile" was passed along the corridors.

And there was no choice.

After three ballots the nine democrats, with the assistance of four republicans, passed a motion to adjourn.

Councilmen Cotter and McKenzil, who are on the sick list, were absent, and Councilman Fielding appeared without his mustache.

Prior to the meeting the democrats caucused and decided to vote for Dr. Fred P. Murphy. Councilman Lyons, however, broke away from the caucus agreement on two ballots and voted once for Dr. Harold B. Plunkett and for Dr. Frank O'Sullivan. Dr. Forster H. Smith, the present incumbent, received 11 votes twice and 12 votes once, 13 being necessary. The ballots were as follows:

First ballot—For Dr. Forster H. Smith: Councilmen Adams, Bergeron, Dexter, Marchand, McKidder, Mitchell, Qua, Spencer, Stevens, Thomas, Wainwright, 11. For Dr. J. B. Albert Johnson: Councilmen Baldwin, Boudreau, Cadoret, Fielding, Wilde, 6. For Dr. Fred P. Murphy: Councilmen J. Donahoe, D. J. Bonobus, Plamagan, Foudy, Jodoin, Kearns, Mahoney, Welch, 8. For Dr. Harold B. Plunkett: Councilman Lyons.

Second ballot—For Dr. Forster H. Smith: Councilmen Adams, Bergeron, Cadoret, Dexter, Fielding, Marchand, Mitchell, Qua, Spencer, Stevens, Thomas, Wainwright, 12. For Dr. Johnson: Councilmen Baldwin, Boudreau, McKidder, Wilde, 6. For Dr. Murphy, the nine democrats except Councilman Lyons, who voted for Dr. Frank O'Sullivan.

Isabel Scallion gave notice of a claim for personal injury and the matter was referred to the committee on claims.

Numerous recommendations by the committee on streets were adopted, and several petitions for the acceptance of streets and the laying of sidewalks were referred to that committee.

The council voted to install fire boxes in Dent and Fruit streets.

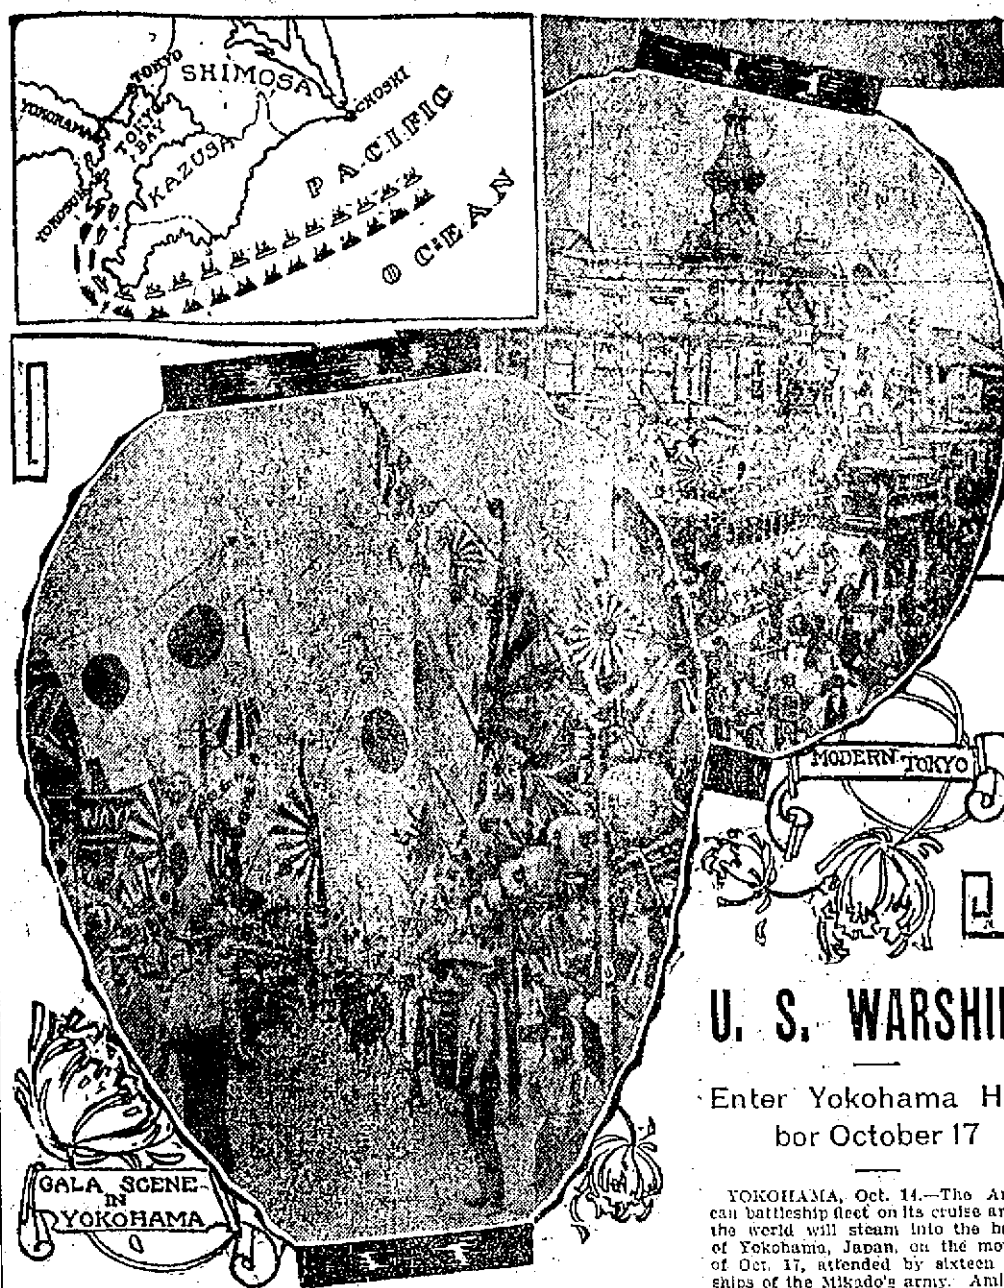

An ordinance amending the ordinance relative to hawkers and peddlers was referred to the committee on ordinances and legislation.

An order to borrow $10,000 for the construction of sewers was adopted in concurrence.

Contracts for the Lincoln memorial will probably be awarded next week as the result of the progress made by the Lincoln Memorial committee which met yesterday afternoon. It was reported that $1500 has been pledged toward the fund.

Of this amount $500 has been raised in the schools and $500 by subscriptions among business men and interested citizens. About $800 more must be raised at once and the committee means to try to get it by further subscriptions this week. E. B. Chase has charge of the post card campaign for raising the funds and expects to get a good sum out of it for the memorial.

THE MATHEWS

TO HOLD LECTURES DURING THE WINTER

At the meeting of the Mathew Temperance Institute held last night reports of different committees were given. The committee on entertainment, which during the last series of lectures, conducted some pleasing entertainments, stated that it was now arranging for the popular Sunday afternoon entertainments which will be held in the new hall in Dutton street.

The following members were appointed as a committee of five to have charge of the arrangements for the anniversary of the society, which is to be held in January: James F. Bourke, John W. Sharkey, John E. Sullivan, William J. Gargan, James J. Gallagher. This committee will hold a meeting shortly and begin active preparations for the event. Although the society had no local celebration on Father Mathew's birthday, many of the members took advantage of the Essex County union, which was held in Haverhill, and were in attendance on that day.

40 Taken From a Burning Building

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—Police men, firemen and citizens groping about the smoke-filled rooms of the Church Home for Orphans and Destitute Children on N street, South Boston, last night rescued some forty little ones whose lives were endangered by a fire which started in the basement and quickly started in the basement and quickly the entire fourth story structure filled with dense smoke.

Some 10 children, from the ages of four to sixteen years, live at the home, which is conducted by the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts.

The fire started in the basement from some cause unknown. About half the children, including 10 orphans, were able to make their way in safety from the building at the west end.

The younger ones, who were on the second floor, were too frightened to help themselves, however. The first citizens to reach the fire immediately sought the little ones and one by one they were carried down the smoke-filled corridors and stairways.

ENJOYABLE TIME

MEMBERS OF MIDDLESEX CHAPTER, S. A. R. HAD BANQUET

Old Middlesex chapter, of the Sons of the American revolution met last night in D. L. Page's hall in Merrimack street. The members assembled about 6.45 o'clock, plates being laid for fifty. An excellent dinner was served after which the business meeting was held, in commemoration of General Burgoyne's surrender which took place during the early part of October, 1777.

President Charles H. Conant was toastmaster for the occasion, and introduced as the first speaker, Hon. Edward C. Batts of Salem, president of the state society, who read a paper on "The Surrender of Burgoyne."

Mr. Batts' address was in the nature of a historical story of the events leading up to and after the battle of Saratoga, and was received with much interest.

George W. Putnam read a very pleasing paper on "The History of the Revolutionary Period," which was very entertaining and amusing. Mr. Putnam quoted at length from the newspapers of the time, and gave various anecdotes of the war which proved that our ancestors possessed a strong sense of humor.

Briefed General Philip Reade of this city, who has been retired after brilliant service in the army department, was one of the speakers down on the program, but he was unable to appear.

After speeches by many of the other prominent members of the order, the meeting broke up at about 10 o'clock. The other speakers were Henry A. Smith, A. G. Walsh, Henry H. Harris, Selon W. Stevens, Frank W. Hall, Rev. B. A. Willmott and Dr. M. G. Parker.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 14.—

The race between Governor John A. Johnson of Minnesota and Jacob F. Jacobson, his republican rival, took on an interesting phase when a question arose as to Jacobson's citizenship. It has been asserted that Jacobson was born in Norway in 1849, came to America with his father in 1857 and that neither father nor son ever took out naturalization papers. The matter is being investigated by the republican committee of Minnesota.

Arnold Tells of Experience in Balloon

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—The second of the three American balloons that started in the race for the International trophy on Sunday from North Sea, the "Saint Louis," manned by N. H. Arnold of North Adams, Mass., and Harry J. Hewitt, was carried over land by treacherous air currents and later in the haze the aeronauts lost their bearings until suddenly a rescue boat, the "German Light," came to their aid. This meant that they must descend or risk the danger of being driven far out of the track of vessels. They chose the former course and for an hour they were buffeted by the waves, almost giving up in despair. Eventually they were rescued by a life boat, and the first intimation that an accident had occurred to the St. Louis was conveyed in a wireless message from Arnold, saying "lost everything in the North Sea last night."

Following so closely on the dramatic experience of Monday night, the "German Light," the navigators of the "Conqueror," which burst at an altitude of 4000 feet soon after the start of the race, the disaster to the St. Louis was the subject of great interest in Berlin throughout the day, and up to midnight no details of the rescue had been learned.

Aerob club or the friends of the men whose whereabouts had not been ascertained.

The Associated Press, however, was able to communicate with Mr. Arnold at Wilhelm's Haven, to which place he had been transported by one of the torpedo boats which last evening were sent out to render assistance to any of the balloonists who might drift out to sea. Mr. Arnold told a graphic story of the descent and rescue by a life boat.

He said: "The day Monday, with the exception of the early afternoon, we were unable to see the earth and we lowered the balloon repeatedly to communicate with the people to ascertain our whereabouts. Apparently we could not make them understand, but this probably was due to our poor German. Finally we were rescued by the 'German Light' and were taken to the shore, still having 25 sacks of ballast.

"Moving in a northwesterly direction in the evening, we passed a city, the lights of which were visible five miles to the west and we learned later that it was Bremen. We were then afterwards we noticed light houses and bays which convinced us that we were moving above big water, but we had no idea where we were.

"In order to avoid being drifted out the line of ship traffic, we concluded to go down to sea level, but it was too late. We were picked up by the boat which, in the meantime, had landed my companion Hewitt. We were landed here, too tired to proceed to Berlin, where we will go today."

Captain J. C. McCoy, the commander of the American balloon, Amerika II, which landed yesterday, reached Berlin last night. He gave an interesting account of his journey in the air.

"We flew 150 miles," he said, "and then were becalmed for four hours. The wind shifted and we returned in the direction of Berlin which we observed Monday night. We then traveled northward in a thick fog and were unable to read the maps. Suddenly we discovered that we were over the water and decided to descend. This was accomplished with some difficulty and we landed in a tree top near Wismar, on the shores of the Baltic. We were within 10 yards of the steep cliffs but we climbed out of our dangerous position with the assistance of fishermen. We were obliged to cut down the trees in order to save the balloon.

"The duration of our flight was 36 hours and seven minutes, during which we did not sleep at anytime. Although we were obliged to descend, we had sufficient ballast to stay up for another day."

Three of the balloons in the international race are still unaccounted for. They are the German balloon "Busley," the Spanish "Castilla," and the Swiss "Télévelin."

A report received from Wangelnsee Island in the North Sea says that a balloon passed over there, but that there were no further tidings of it. The flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers is searching the North Sea, where a thick fog prevails.

The English balloon "Banshee," so far as present estimates go, has covered the longest distance in the race, 215 miles.

BILLERICA

The board of selectmen of Billerica has decided to have the polling place for precinct 2, at the coming state and presidential election, in Union hall, North Billerica. It was the original intention of the board to have the voting done this year at the Mathew hall, but this plan was changed. The republican club room in Elm street has been used for voting at state elections for many years, but it was considered inadequate on account of its size. Union hall is not nearly as centrally located as either of the places mentioned above, but being town property it was thought by many to be the proper building in which to hold the election voting.
